FOREWORD

The editors, in presenting this book which has had to be reduced in size, desire to preserve happenings and features of the school years of 1942-43.

One hundred and one seniors, the largest graduating class in the history of Lebanon high will soon bid good-bye to their good old Alma Mater, some for college and others for various branches of the service.

The building stands on the most beautiful campus in the state and recently has been considerably enlarged by the addition of a gymnasium, home economics building, and even more recently by a new machine shop.

The school is known not only for its academic accomplishments, but also, for its historic features. The "Class Rock" that stands on the southeast corner of the campus, designates that area as a portion of the Old Oregon Trail. The bell that was shipped around Cape Horn for use in the historic Santiam Academy, before it was torn down, still hangs in the belfry of L. H. S. and is rung only when the Warriors have been triumphant in an athletic contest. Near the southeast corner of the grounds stands one of the few remaining "Cedar of Lebanon" trees that is now in existence.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

We, of the 1943 Warrior Staff, would like to take this opportunity to give a hearty thank you to our advisor, Miss Aebischer, Mr. Bryan, Mr. Coe, the entire faculty and the Lebanon school board for the consideration and cooperative assistance we have received from them.

We should also like to make known our appreciation to Mr. Van Loh, the printer, who has been most cooperative and has done an excellent job of printing.

STUDENT COUNCIL

President	Ted Daily
Vice President	Dalton Johnson
Secretary	Shirley Dillard
Treasurer	Don Cox

The student council headed by the student body officers above had a few separate meetings, but it was, for the most part, merged with the Victory Corps Council and the two councils acting as one.

The executive student council, however, was maintained, with the officers approving or disapproving of certain measures that came up throughout the year.

The organization, as a whole, was very successful this year and much can be expected of the council in years to come.

SENIOR CLASS HISTORY

On the eleventh day of September, 1939, a warm sultry autumn day, 124 freshmen students from many different districts, assembled together to experience a new adventure. After having found their bearings, the freshmen organized under the supervision of Miss Doris Hageman and elected their officers: Bill Bauman, president; Tom Standley, vice president; Aliene Miller, secretary; Charlotte Curtis, treasurer; and Wendell Cook, class representative.

Initiation was the first big step to be taken before they became full-fledged high school students. It was a step which they took bravely and with as much enthusiasm as they could muster under the circumstances.

Members of the class were active in athletics, F. F. A., dramatics, glee, band, Hi-Light, and other activities of the school. Many of the students also won places on the honor roll.

In May, the class staged a skating party in Albany. The party was a great success, due mainly to the excellent attendance.

Before the year had closed, many new students had entered the halls and rooms of our class, bringing the grand total to 139 students. With a larger class, the freshmen were well prepared to meet the challenges of their sophomore year.

On September 16, 1940, the sophomores with a smaller class of 125 students, again entered the doors of dear old Lebanon High to begin another nine months of school. With Mrs. Shanks as advisor, the class elected the following officers: president, Jim Shephard; vice president, Tom Standley; secretary, Barbara Dewey; treasurer, Blythe Lenox; and representative, Ramona Warnke.

The class was well represented in both band and glee, and numerous other clubs in the school.

In sports, a number of the boys were well on their way to making letters, namely: Bill Bauman, Tom Standley, Ray Webb, and Calvin Jennings.

This year a number of our students left, but their places were re-filled by 17 new students.

In the year 1941, 125 enthusiastic juniors arrived at school with the hope of becoming successful upperclassmen.

Under the supervision of Mr. Page and Mr. Helser, advisors, the following officers were elected: Reid Meritt, president; Don Cox, vice president; Arlene McPherson, secretary; Shirley Dillard, treasurer; and Dalton Johnson, representative.

The junior year of the class of '43 contained many musical members. Among them were Laverne Stewart, who sang alto in the Girls Trio, and Gladys Stone who was a member of the clarinet quartet. The class had one exceptional trumpet player, Norman Leckband, and five other members in the band and an additional number in the glee club.

This year the juniors did something entirely new. Under the capable direction of Maxine Winn, they presented a carnival, the first of its kind to be held in the Lebanon High gymnasium.

Through the success of the Junior Carnival, the Junior-Senior Prom was financed. The theme was "Spring Fantasy" and the music was furnished by an Oregon State College dance band. It was the most successful event of the year. At this event, Queen Nancy and her royal court was honored. The Prom Committee consisted of Jean Post, Sally Irvine, Gladys Stone, Laverne Stewart and Maxine Winn.

The class now boasts of many well-qualified athletes, namely: Ted Daily, Dalton Johnson, Jim Irvine, Bill Manela, Calvin and Alvin Jennings, Wendell Cook, Jim Shepherd, and Roland King.

Among the outstanding juniors were two boys, Reid Meritt and Don Cox, who for the first time in Lebanon High school history, became editors of the high school paper during their junior year. Reid was editor the first semester and Don the second. Up until this time the position of editor has been given to a senior.

On September 21, 1942, the seniors took up their books and entered the halls of Lebanon high school for their last but most successful year.

Under the capable leadership of Roland King, president; Harold Harden, vice president; Blanche North, secretary; Blythe Lenox, treasurer; and Wendell Cook, representative, the class was off to a grand start. Miss Aebischer and Mr. Bates were class advisors.

Don Penfold and Jean Esmond well represented the class as outstanding orators. Don won the county contest and entered the district contest at Corvallis.

In the music fields there can be found many seniors. They were well represented in sports also, with many of the boys receiving letters in more than one sport.

At a class meeting the seniors selected the gardenia as their class flower; red, white, and blue as the class colors; and the motto, "Not at the top, but climbing."

Baccalaureate services will be held on the evening of May 23. The following Wednesday, May 26, commencement exercises will be held. Thus, the largest class in L. H. S. history, the 101 remaining seniors, will be graduated from Lebanon high school.

The close of their high school days is drawing nearer and nearer. It won't be long until they will all leave the halls of their dear old Alma Mater to seek Success in the outside world. They are faced with the trials and tribulation of a great nation at war. Will they choose the path that leads to victory and everlasting peace, or will they be the "slackers" that could cause the downfall of what America stands for? Today as never before the graduating classes of all America have a prominent place in this country to fill.

CLASS PROPHECY

While strolling through the crowded thoroughfares of the bulging little metropolis of Lebanon during the annual festivities, known as the Strawberry Fair, in the year 1953 we chanced to meet many of the old friends that you and I knew ten years ago. Strawberry Fair brings everyone to town, so we had the opportunity of talking to all the members of the class of '43.

The rich, mellow voice of our city mayor, TOM TOWNSEND, drew our attention as he introduced the speaker of the day, Senator DALE BOGGS. Also on the stage were such well-known personalities as the Professor of Psychology at Harvard University, BOB CALAHAN. Also Lawrence Tibet's protege, DON COX; the All American Football Coach, FRANK CRANE; and Lebanon's own Dorthy Dix, ALIENE MILLER, who is now writing for the London Times.

And who should try to sell us a bag of popcorn but the student body president of 1943 THEODORE DAILY, who we later found was obtaining butter from the Black Market, operated by EUGENE DEMPSEY.

As we approached the concessions we noted with great interest that the Freak Show was owned and operated by co-partners—GERALD RUCKER and WOODROW ERSKINE. Announcing the feature attractions of the evening is the Willamette Valley's only lady announcer, LORAYNE SORSETH. These main attractions being such highly publicized celebrities as Tiny DILLARD, now America's largest fat lady. The exotic BLANCHE NORTH is now an intriguing snake dancer. The Hudini of his day is LYLE SIMONS, assisted by capable DONNA RIDDLE.

Across the street from this concession we find Cook's Cozy Cookery, owned and operated by WINDY and BLYTHE. After we had eased the pangs of our hunger we proceeded to view the other concessions. First to meet our attention is EUGENE O'HEARNS and FRED ROGERS wrestling show. At the present the main bout is taking place between those two heavyweight, Demon DON NICHOLS and Rough House RODERIC KLEINT. Following this there will be a bout between the two contenders for the Northwest Division Women's Championship. The contestants being RUTH VANDERBURG and EVELYN STOWE.

Leaving this attraction we proceeded to the city center, there finding WILLARD ESTEP whistling at the girls just like he did back in '43. Helping Willard with his business is BILL MANELA, who has been reformed into a G-Man.

Gazing wistfully around we note that DON NORMAN, Number 399 of New York's 400, is in town for the day and is spending most of his time entertaining the toughest sergeant left in the Marine Corps Reserve, JEANNE POST.

DALTON and STEPHANA JOHNSON (SALLY IRVINE to you) and little Dalton Johnson, Jr., who is now attending MAXINE WINN'S Kindergarten, were chatting with BARBARA DEWEY, Head Matron at the State Institution of Correction for Women, and husband—HAROLD ELMORE HARDEN, who is now posing as Mortimer Snerd in PAT GROGEN'S Ventriloquist Show. My, what celebrities L. H. S. is accredited for!

MERRILL SMITH, (you'll never guess his occupation) is now Lebanon's leading Bar Tender, who is married to gorgeous RAMONA WARNKE, supporting the family by teaching Music in good old L. H. S.

JENNINGS and JENNINGS are trying to revive vaudeville. Taken for granted is the marriage of MICKY FAIRBANKS and CAL.

Growing tired of just talking and chatting, we decided to go down the midway. There we found ROXIE GIBLIN, MARY FIELDS, GEORGIA FIALA, and CLARA OHM, who are on their vacation from their job at the Oregon Ship Builders.

Hey! Come On! Let's go to the parade! On HIRAM HERNS Beauty Salon Float we find JEAN ESMOND and ALICE WOOD modeling the latest hair styles for Hiram. And—here comes the band—and there's BETTY BURFORD, still leading the Fife and Drum Corps—assisted by the renown NORMAN LECKBAND on the bass drums. (Ah, ha!—fooled you, didn't we?)

The ladies cavalry consists of BETTY CALLAHAN, BETTY CARL-CARLSON, FLORENCE CARLSON, FLORRINE CRANFORD and MARIE DOWNING. Following the Women's Cavalry is, of course, the Men's Cavalry, consisting of NEIL ADAMSON, WILLARD BERRY, KENNETH DAILEY, VERNON NEUSTEL and JOHN SANDERSON—that's John over thereon the white horse.

At this point we notice the street cleaners—FLOYD BURGE, ROBERT JAMES, and LYLE McCLOUD. As the parade went by out dashed NORA DWYER (Yes, still usher at Lebanon's Cinema) and bumped into GLADYS STONE, who has taken up the practice of the good Dr. Booth. Nora didn't get to talk long to Dr. Stone, for waiting in the Doctor's office was the now famed JUANITA BROWN, partner to the famous Sally Rand.

Looking more closely at the little group on the corner, we find a house-wives convention. By their maiden names they are GLORIA LEE, CLYDEL MORRISON, MELVA LAMP, JUDY JOHNSON, SYLVIA MORRIS (Ilg), BARBARA HEYNE, MARGIE HAUXWELL, LaVELLA HAMMETT, MARILYN PYNCH, and RAMONA RAY.

Down at the Exhibit Building, EX McKINNIS and IRENE LIGGETT (still going steady) were standing behind Ex's prize collection of poppies. HARRY ROBERTS, JR., with a disgusted look, is admiring what were his blue ribbon strawberries while BILL WILEY stands by with a guilty look.

Glancing into the 5 & 10 Dinnette we saw RUTHIE McCLAIN, who we sorrowfully found had turned into a slave driver, making DAR-

THULA HARTLE, MARIO GREEN and JUANITA KAU, her waitresses, work extremely hard. Two complaining customers were Waacs—VIRGINIA LEFFLER and BETTY DAVIS.

DONNA SAXTON, NADINE STEWART, and TRUDY SWANSON are well on their way to being old maids.

Well, who do you think is leaning over the penny pitch trying to stretch a penny into a million dollars but LOUISE NOFZIGER (14c ahead), MARJORY McELHINEY (oh oh—she's 1.49 in the hole) and ARLENE McPHERSON who didn't know the difference between a dime and a penny—but neither PAT CALAHAN or IONA LAGLER, who run the place, will refund her money.

Our class president ROLAND KING, of 1943, hasn't come up much in the world—he's just a bum.

Here comes a Western Union boy struggling through the crowd—correction, it's LUCILE SMITH, the telegraph girl brings us a telegram. Quote: MEET IMPORTANT CELEBRITY STOP ARRIVING FROM xxxxxx (Censored by REID MERITT) SIGNED * EDITH NELSON—Private Secretary to LAWRENCE IRWIN—publicity manager MGM.

Cab! Up drives EVELYN HAGEMAN to take us down to the station to meet the celebrity—Who is it, we wonder? Why, who do you think is telegraph operator—it's LELA PHILLIPS, from Lacombe. Back to the celebrity—we'll soon know who it is, 'cause here comes the train. Oh-h-h-h- it's GWENDOLYN ELIZABETH ADAMSON—the second Vera Vague.

Time and tide wait for no man—neither do we, after writing things like this—so now LAVERNE STEWART and DON PENFOLD have Hit the Dusty Trail.

JUNIOR CLASS

President, Jack N. Beach; vice president, Ralph Cooper; secretary, Kathlene Patterson; treasurer, Louise Kruml; class representative, Kathryn Voegelein.

The junior class, although hampered by war time difficulties, has come through with its share in the fields of music and athletics. One of its members, Clinton Pearson, was selected as the left tackle on the Tri-County League All Star football eleven.

They were very active in various school clubs with many members participating in the band, Hi-Y, Drama Club, and others. Moreover, nearly every junior is a member of the newly introduced Victory Corps and did their share in the bond and stamp campaigns.

The class was under the capable advisorship of Miss Schiltz and Mr. Dedman.

SOPHOMORE CLASS

President, Don Davidson; vice president, Bill Miller; secretary, Margaret Smith; treasurer, Curtis Coe; sergeant-at-arms, Erwin Wilkinson; class representative, Ramona Iverson.

The year which is now coming to a close has been a very successful one for the sophomore class. During the year they have had a number of successful parties including a trip to Albany to skate.

The leadership of those officers given above has made the sophomore year of the class of '45 a well-remembered one.

The sophomore class has been prominent in many of the clubs, social activities, and athletics of the school and they shall continue to do so until they graduate.

FRESHMAN CLASS

President, Jess Ingram; vice president, Duane Pierce; secretary, Zata Sinclair; treasurer, Mariloris Scott; class representative, Paul McCracken; Girls League representative, Beverly Lenox.

The class of '46 got off easy. No initiation. Not at school, at least. The usual ride-in-the-country was experienced by many, despite the tire and gas situation.

The freshman class was well represented this year in athletics. Lynn Hamilton and Jess Ingram were among the outstanding athletes, Lynn in basketball, and Jess in football.

More will be seen of these two boys and others in coming years, as will more be seen and heard of the class of '46.

WARRIOR STAFF

Reid Meritt	Editor-in-Chief
Don Cox	Associate Editor
Nora Dwyer	Business Manager
Harold Harden	Associate Business Manager

The Warrior staff was elected by the members of the senior class as the book was originally to be a yearbook for seniors only.

Some difficulty was encountered in planning the annual, as expenses had to be drastically reduced and the book made smaller due to the shortage of material as the result of the war.

The articles in this book concerning the clubs and other activities of the school were written by individuals and committees that were selected by the editor.

Miss Aebischer was selected by the class as advisor for the Warrior.

L. H. S. BAND

Once again the Lebanon high school band under the able direction of Mr. C. C. Bates has been in the limelight all year, presenting several grand and enjoyable concerts. The band participated in a special assembly on December 7, commemorating Pearl Harbor, which was an outstanding program of patriotic selections. Another outstanding fete for the band was Victory Night, in which the Lebanon band had the honor of having the presence of both the Sweet Home and Albany bands to participate in a very successful evening of entertainment.

An event that is always looked forward to by all the members of the band is graduation night. Again this year the band played for the great yearly event. They also gave rousing spirit to spectators at all the football and basketball games and added new courage to the teams.

Mr. Bates is to be complimented on this fine organization and much credit should be given to the members themselves for the many hours spent in practice.

Aside from their other activities, the band raised the money and bought at $50.00 War Bond which at maturity will be used for the benefit of the future band members. It also contributed to the Red Cross fund.

Of the fifty-one members, six are among the graduation class. The trumpet section will miss Norman Leckband, who has played the cornet with the band for seven years. For two years Norman has received a Superior of 1 rating at the state contests. Other graduating members are Gladys Stone and Gwen Adamson, clarinets; Blanche North, saxophone; Donna Riddle, trombone; and Gertrude Swanson, drums.

The officers for the band this year were Norman Leckband, president; Gladys Stone, vice president; Blanche North, secretary; Betty Irvine, treasurer and librarian; Norman Leckband, assistant director.

Right behind the band all the way, is the Band Boosters Club made up of the parents of the band members. This year they, through sales, purchased a new french horn for the band. The school also purchased one and now the band has four very nice french horns. Under the active leadership of the officers, Mrs. E. H. Leckband, president; Mrs. Hamilton, secretary; Mr. Harold Irvine, treasurer, the Band Boosters Club has worked side by side all year with the members of the band and have proved very helpful.

The Lebanon spot-light band of the year, the L. H. S. Dance Band has won the admiration of the entire student body. It consists of Laverne Stewart, Norman Leckband, Bob Bauman, Beverly Keebler, Gene Durlam, Rodney Cox, Richard Hobbs, Arden Keebler, and Norman Weekly. This outstanding group, under the capable direction of Mr. C. C. Bates, has given several sterling performances. One of them being the program at Camp Adair for the enjoyment of the many soldiers, in which the band whole-heartedly participated. Doing their part in every way, the Dance Band gave an inspiring broadcast over station KWIL for the benefit of a Victory Drive. They also played at an American Legion banquet and added much enjoyment to several school assemblies. By practicing several nights a week at the members homes, and working hard for better achievement, this organization has become one of the many prides of our Alma Mater and will long be remembered and remain in the minds of all who have heard it.

Once again this year, as in other years the Clarinet Quartet has made a splendid name for itself. The clarinetists comprising this group are Gladys Stone, Norman Weekly, Betty Irvine, and Janet Whelan.

Gladys, who is a senior this year, has played with the band for three years and has been in the Clarinet Quartet for two years. She is first clarinetist and will be greatly missed next year.

Norman is a freshman and is a new comer to both the band and the quartet, this being his first year in both groups.

Betty and Janet are both sophomores and each has played with the band two years. They have been in the quartet for one year.

The Clarinet Quartet has made several public appearances this year, one of which was the appearance at Camp Adair for the entertainment of the camp personnel. The quartet played at one of the Lebanon Lions Club dinners and were very graciously received. This talented group has played at several school assemblies and appeared at all of the concerts.

Gladys, Norman, Betty, and Janet are to be complimented on the enjoyment they have given to our school and all who have the pleasure of hearing them.

No review of musical activities would be complete without expressing our appreciation for the work of the Cornet Quartet, one of the most active groups of Lebanon high school.

The foursome of cornetists have appeared several times at public functions during the year. They added much to the entertainment for the soldiers at Camp Adair. They were also invited by the Lions Club of this city to play for their membership dinner. We have all heard and enjoyed them at assemblies and at our series of concerts this year.

The members of the quartet are Rodney Cox, Gene Durlam, Paul McCracken, and Duane Pierce.

Rodney is a sophomore student and has played with the band for two years. This is his second year with the quartet, also. This is Gene's third year with the quartet. He is a junior and has been with the band for three years.

Paul and Duane are freshmen and have played with the band for two years and with the quartet for one year.

This being a newly organized quartet, these boys deserve much credit for their achievements of the past year.

Lebanon high school is indeed fortunate that none of these talented musicians are seniors and we hope that they will continue as a quartet and go on to finer accomplishments in the future.

GLEE

Congratulations again are in order for the fine work done in the A cappella choir this year. No musical ratings were given this year as the annual State Music Contest was not held.

Under the new director, Mr. Tom O'Brien, the A cappella choir has done exceedingly well. Although Mr. O'Brien directs the A cappella choir, he finds time for smaller ensembles and glee clubs.

One of the outstanding performances of the year was the Christmas Concert. The A cappella choir and the band were featured in this program. Familiar Christmas carols and traditional carols from foreign countries were sung.

The effective stage settings, made by students of the art department, brought many oh's and ah's from the audience as the curtains were drawn back revealing the choir in white vestments against a background of colored church windows and blue lights.

With the aid of Miss Hess, instruction of Home Economics, white choir vestments were made.

About forty students are enrolled as members of the A cappella choir. The main object of this group is to study and enjoy choral music. The group is an activity and a class, one credit a year being given for participation.

The Girls Trio consisted of Laverne Stewart and Maxine Winn, seniors, and Marie Beale, a junior. This was Laverne's third year with the trio and Marie's second year, while Maxine was a newcomer to the trio this year.

Another girl ensemble included Gwen Adamson and Ramona Warkne, seniors; June Neustel and Betty Croner, sophomores, and Ruth Schneider, a freshman.

Officers for the year were: Gwen Adamson, president; and Margaret Fairbanks, secretary.

HI-Y

Although this is only the third year of existence of the Hi-Y Club in Lebanon high school, it is probably one of the strongest organizations of the school. It is affiliated with the Y. M. C. A. and works very closely with it and the school in the betterment of the surroundings.

Last April 9, they presented two plays composed of all male casts which made up a hilarious two hour program. Proceeds from these plays were used to better school conditions wherever possible and contributions were made to various relief organizations.

The club's membership is limited and all new members must be approved by those already in the club. Members must have a grade average of not less than a three and be of good character or they are automatically dropped from the club.

They attended church as a group at various times during the year.

GIRLS LEAGUE

The purpose of the Girls League is to develop character, scholarship, service and leadership among all the girls in school.

Meetings were held once a month with outstanding speakers such as Mrs. Maris, Dean of Women at Oregon State College, and Mrs. Johnson from the Portland Police Department. Plays, skits, and talks by students and faculty were of real interest.

The Girls League council met each week to plan the activities of the committees and events such as the Kid Party, Hello Day and Mothers Tea.

The Girls League at present is helping in the war effort by making hot water bottle covers and muslin squares for the hospital at Camp Adair.

The officers are:

We, of the Girls League wish to thank Miss Aebischer for her guidance and interests in the past year.

HI-LIGHT

The Hi-Light staff under the supervision of Miss Ender has had a very successful year. During the first of the year Mrs. Smith served a term as business advisor. Following is a list of the main staff officers for the first term: Barbara Dewey, editor; Gladys Stone, assistant editor; Juanita Brown, business manager; and Nora Dwyer, assistant business manager.

The second half of the year Nora Dwyer and Ramona Warnke served as co-editors and Pat Reeves was the assistant editor. The business end was managed by Juanita Brown and Betty Southwick.

Contributing editors for the school paper were: Betty Callahan, Betty Carlson, Don Cox, Rodney Cox, Eugene Dempsey, Shirley Dillard, Mario Green, Evelyn Hageman, Virginia Leffler, Aliene Miller, Arlene McPherson, Reid Meritt, Blanche North, Lela Phillips, Donna Riddle, Jim Shindler, Ramona Stringer, Shirley Reeves, Cedric Wallace, Louise Kruml, Laverne Stewart, Ruth Vanderburg, Peggy Raines, and Janet Whelan.

S. O. S. CLUB

Another successful year has passed for the School Office Service Club which is under the leadership of our Principal, Mr. Bryan and Miss Caroline Matejcek, school secretary.

This organization has done much in helping the girls to learn the daily office routine and has helped promote more interest among the girls toward actual office work. Only those girls who work in one of the two offices are qualified for membership in this organization.

The officers are: Ramona Warnke, president; Laverne Stewart, vice president; and Shirley Dillard, secretary.

S. O. S. is a call for help, so the girls are always at your service as is well known by the entire student body and faculty.

LATIN CLUB

The Lebanon high school students in the Latin Club chose for their club name, Sodales Latini, which, when translated, means "Latin Comrades or Fellow Sufferers."

The officers of the club are as follows: concules (presidents), Libby Spiruta and Jean Esmond; praetor (vice-president), Virginia Bowen; scriba (secretary), LaVelle Marquardt; aedilas (program committee), Betty Jean Croner and Arlene McPherson; and censor (advisor of the club), Miss Scace.

The meetings were held the first and third Fridays of every month, during the regular Latin classes. The members of the club include the first and second year Latin students of Lebanon high school. This has proven itself as one of the most active clubs of the school.

FIRE SQUAD

The fire squad was organized by the high school principal Mr. Bryan, at the beginning of the school year. Its main purpose is to conduct fire drills and combat any outbreak of fire until the city fire department could arrive.

Because of the threat of attack by our enemy air forces, they have had more problems to study other than that of fighting fire. The squad, in case of bombing, would be in charge of evacuating the building and also of extinguishing any fires started in this way.

The thirty-six members of the squad were assigned to the eleven posts throughout the school building by Don Norman, chief. The number of men at each post depends on the type of equipment and location of that post.

The fastest time in which the building was evacuated was one minute and three seconds. This is seven seconds less than last year's record time, one minute and ten seconds. Bob Cate is time-keeper.

All of the equipment was checked and the necessary repairs and refilling was done.

LIBRARY CLUB

With the primary purpose of bettering the conditions in the library, the Library Club held its first meeting of the year on December 21, and elected Merrill Smith, president; Reid Meritt, vice president; Ruth Vanderburg, secretary; and Don Norman, treasurer.

They planned to join the Book of the Month club; learn the general duties of the library and the cataloging and repair of books. But, due to all the other activities which took so much of the members time, these goals were not completed as well as they might have been.

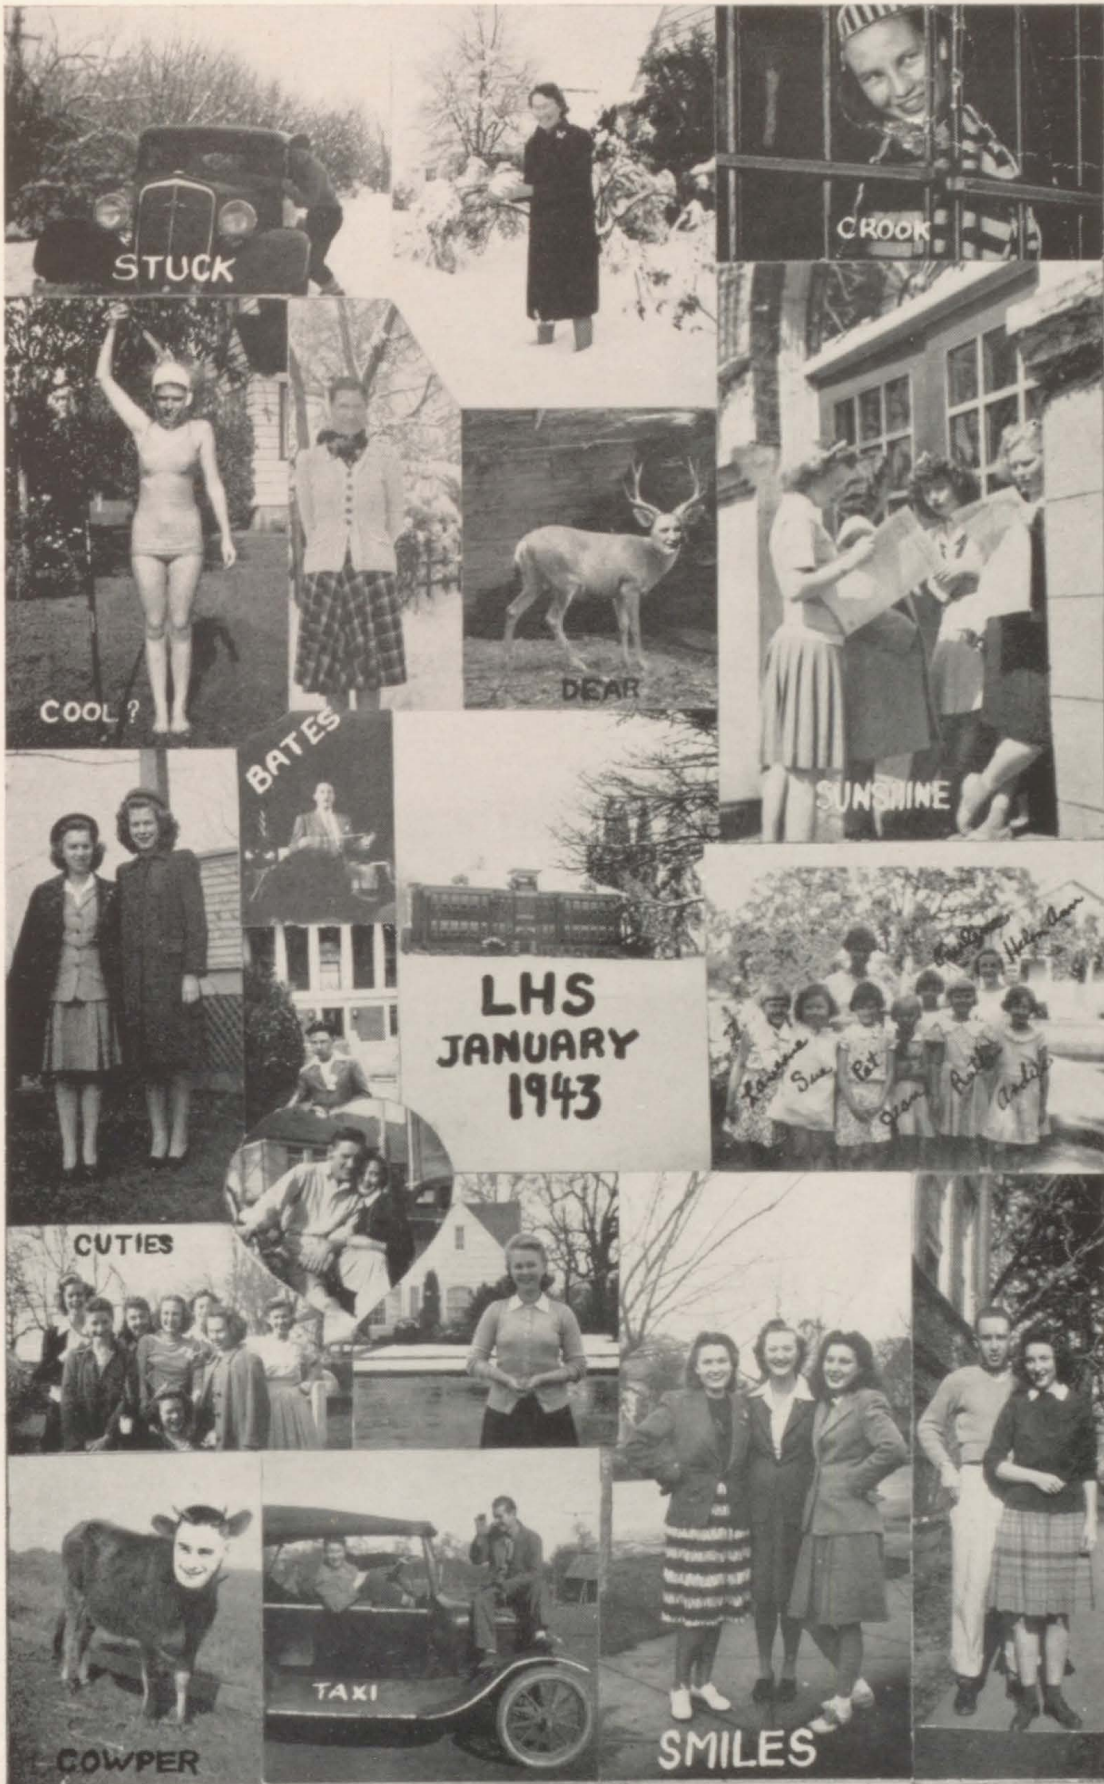

A new constitution was written up and approved by the members.

DRAMA CLUB

Although under new advisorship the Drama Club has carried on with the same flying colors that it has exhibited in past years. Led by Mrs. Kitrina, the dramatists held their first meeting early in the year and elected Gladys Stone, president; Lois Gilbert, vice president; Gwen Adamson, secretary; and Brian Connelly, treasurer.

In December they held their annual Christmas party which was enjoyed by all who were in attendance. Each member of the Drama Club brought a guest, many of whom later joined the club themselves. Any club that can make a showing like that is well worth considerable recognition.

Plays and various other activities were carried out by this organization throughout the year.

LETTERMAN'S CLUB

The Lebanon Lettermans Club, composed of those who have won the coveted "L", has been inactive for the past two years but this year they reorganized; elected new officers and are now one of the strongest clubs in the school. They took measures to prevent and have succeeded in stopping the wearing of out of school letters and the uncovering of more stripes than has actually been earned in the respective sports. Anyone caught violating these rules were punished by the lettermen in their own way. They also took it upon themselves to see to it that students did not cast waste paper about the campus and city streets.

FOOTBALL

The Lebanon high school football team under the tutelage of its new coach, Bud Page, enjoyed one of the most successful pigskin campaigns that this school has seen for a number of years. Although the schedule was limited to seven games, the boys made an impressive record by winning four, tying two, and losing only one. During the season Lebanon piled up a total of seventy-three points and only twice during the entire season was the Warrior goal line crossed by opponents.

In Tri-County League competition, Lebanon did not suffer a single setback but, because of two tie games, finished second in the league standing with Roseburg on top. Two Warriors, Ted Daily, halfback, and Clinton Pearson, tackle, were named on the All-Star team in the Tri-County league. Dalton Johnson and Delbert Fennell were given honorable mention.

At the close of the season, the boys were given a wonderful banquet by the Lebanon Lions Club. At this time it was announced that Calvin Jennings, quarterback, was selected by his teammates as honorary captain for the '42 campaign just completed and Jack Beach, guard, was also selected as captain for the 1943 season.

Coach Page used practically two complete teams during the season thus giving many of the boys an opportunity to win the coveted "L" for which they put in many long hours of hard work. Those boys receiving letters are listed below. As there is not sufficient space to tell something about each player, only the seniors will be treated in such a manner.

TED DAILY—right halfback—Ted was a triple-threat bugaboo for all rival teams this season. His shifty backfield running, left handed passes and spiral punts always kept Lebanon in enemy territory. The hardest tackles of the year were made by Ted, and the opponents knew it when he smacked them. He scored 27 points.

DALTON JOHNSON—fullback—A real triple-threat player on any ball club. A boy who never knew when to stop after being tackled, Dalt could run the ends, fire a pass downfield, or plunge through the line, all with equal ability. He was high point man with 31 points.

CAL JENNINGS—quarterback—A three year letterman and one of the hardest tacklers and blockers for his size seen on the gridiron this year. A boy who always gave everything he had for the good of the team, he was a good team leader. He scored 6 points this year.

AL JENNINGS—left halfback—Alternated at left half and fullback and was very versatile at both positions. Al was always good for three or four yards, through the line, and it was his blocking that opened the way for many long runs. He scored 1 point this season.

CHUCK ENSLEY—back—He seemed always to be jinxed with injuries but he still gave all he had when he was in the ball game. Chuck could play any position in the backfield and gave a good account of himself at each one.

BILL MANELA—left end—Bill played the end position like a veteran although it was his first year in varisty competition. His pass catching ability and defensive smartness made him one of the best ends Lebanon has seen for a number of years. He was also a drop kicker of great ability, an art seldom seen on teams these days. He scored 1 point.

DEB FENNELL—left tackle—Opponents found Deb almost impossible to move on the defense and he often spilled ball carriers far back of the line of scrimmage. His blocking in the line opened big holes for the back to slip through for good gains.

REID MERITT—guard—A small fellow, but still one of the toughest boys on the squad to keep out of a play. He was very fast and aggressive.

HAROLD HARDEN—right guard—Harold was always in there fighting every minute he was in the game and he never knew when to give up. This was his first year as a regular but he came through in great style.

ROLAND KING—guard—Roland alternated at both guards this year and played as much as any of the regulars. He was a hard tackler and backed up the line in the best fashion.

Juniors winning their letters were: Don Baxter and Ralph Cooper, ends; Clint Pearson and Fred Cox, tackles; Jack Beach, guard; and Bob Crandall, center.

Freshmen: Jess Ingram, back; and Lynn Hamilton, tackle.

BASKETBALL

Although not successful in games won and lost the Warriors played a nip and tuck season according to the game statistics. They scored a total of 172 field goals as compared with 173 for their opponents, but they split the hoop for a total of 65 free throws while the opponents completed on 47 during the entire season for a season's total of 409 points for the locals and 395 for the foes. It doesn't seem possible, then, that we could have lost eight out of the fourteen games played.

This year's squad was very inexperienced with only five upperclassmen and three lettermen turning out for the 1943 casaba group.

Letter winners were: Manela and Cooper, forwards; Wallace, guard and forward; King, center; Hamilton, Cook and Olds, guards; Clark and Johnson, managers.

Ralph Cooper was elected as 1943-44 captain by the basketball team itself.

The hi-light game of the season was the 28 to 26 defeat handed Albany by the Warriors in one of the most thrilling games any spectator would want to see on any maple court. Incidentally, the local team lost only one game out of four with the neighboring Sweet Home Huskies and that was another of those heart-breaking 28 to 26 defeats.

BASEBALL

Like all other schedules, that of the baseball team has been drastically curtailed. The 1943 schedule as it now stands has only ten games.

A good turnout of prospective players answered Coach Bud Page's call. There are, however, only five returning lettermen from last year's flychasers. Those returning lettermen are: Ted Daily, pitcher; Cal Jennings and Bob Erickson, outfielders; Al Jennings, second baseman; and Wendell Cook, first baseman.

Others who turned out are:

Roland King, Don Ellis, Jack Beach, Raymond Ayers, Jess Ingram, Reid Meritt, Bill Manela, Arthur Cobb, Ralph Cooper, Bob Calahan, Laddy Pesek, Erwin Wilkinson, Bill Miller, John Bohlken, Hugh Watts, Eldon Raber, Harold Harden, Cedric Wallace, George Schreiber, Bill Durham, Cloyd Powell, Dennis Canny, Edwin Miller, Bill Salvage, Joe Elkins, and Ben Brown.

Up until the present time no games have been played and only a few nights of practice due to bad weather conditions and a far too muddy field.
