A power saw rages
A tree falls
And so it is in progress.
A calf is born
While the fertile soil is turned
Land in wealth
Economy of Lebanon.

A play well done,
A concert success
A rally dance, a prom
Spirit week tension,
May Day excitement
An opportunity to do,
To serve, to expand,
To grow to be more.

Symbol of bravery
 Synonym for courage
 Embodied in an athlete
 Expressed in a student
 "We are the Warriors!"
 Yes, yes we are!

But what is a classroom, if not
 A place in which to learn?
 The pride of an "A"
 The disappointment of a "D"
 Some reach the top
 Some must stay behind
 A teacher presents
 A student absorbs
 Ideas fuse together
 Meaning falls into place
 We move forward.

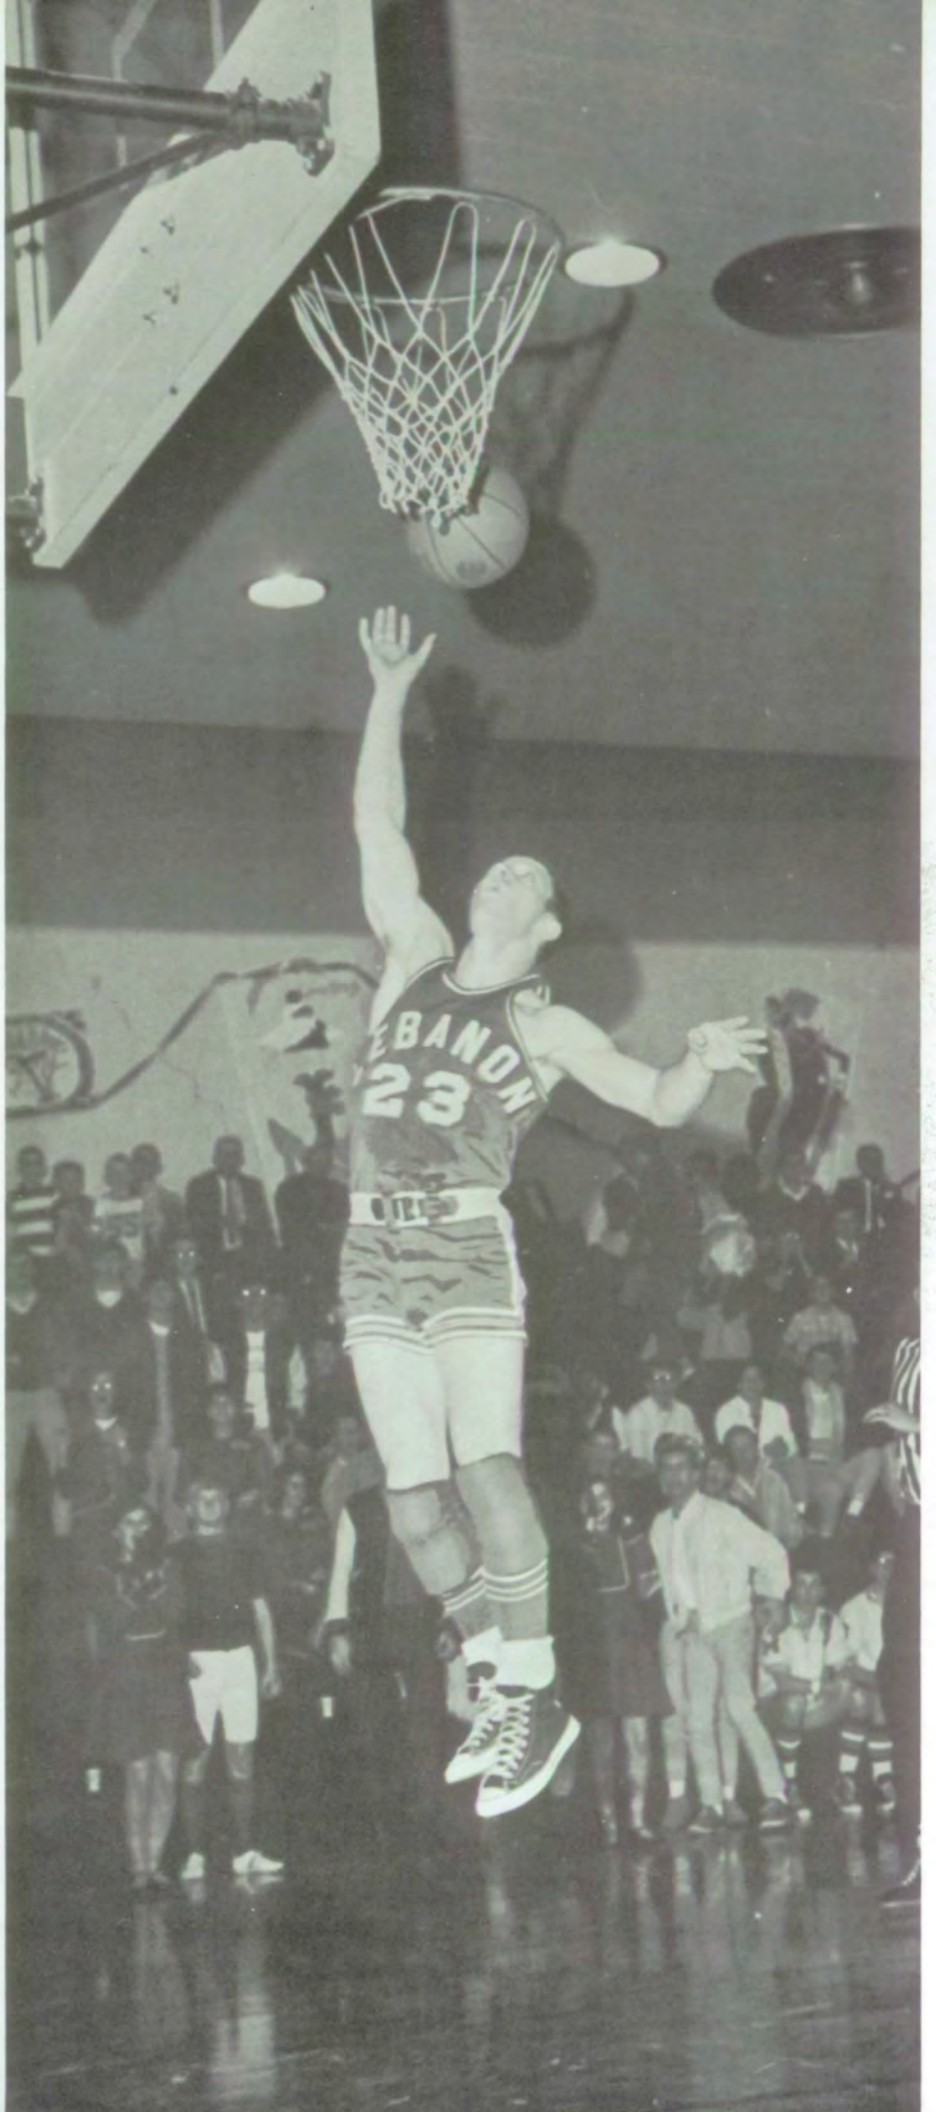

Symbol of our community
The people who support us
We are because they are
A group small
But a pride enormous
—Our home.

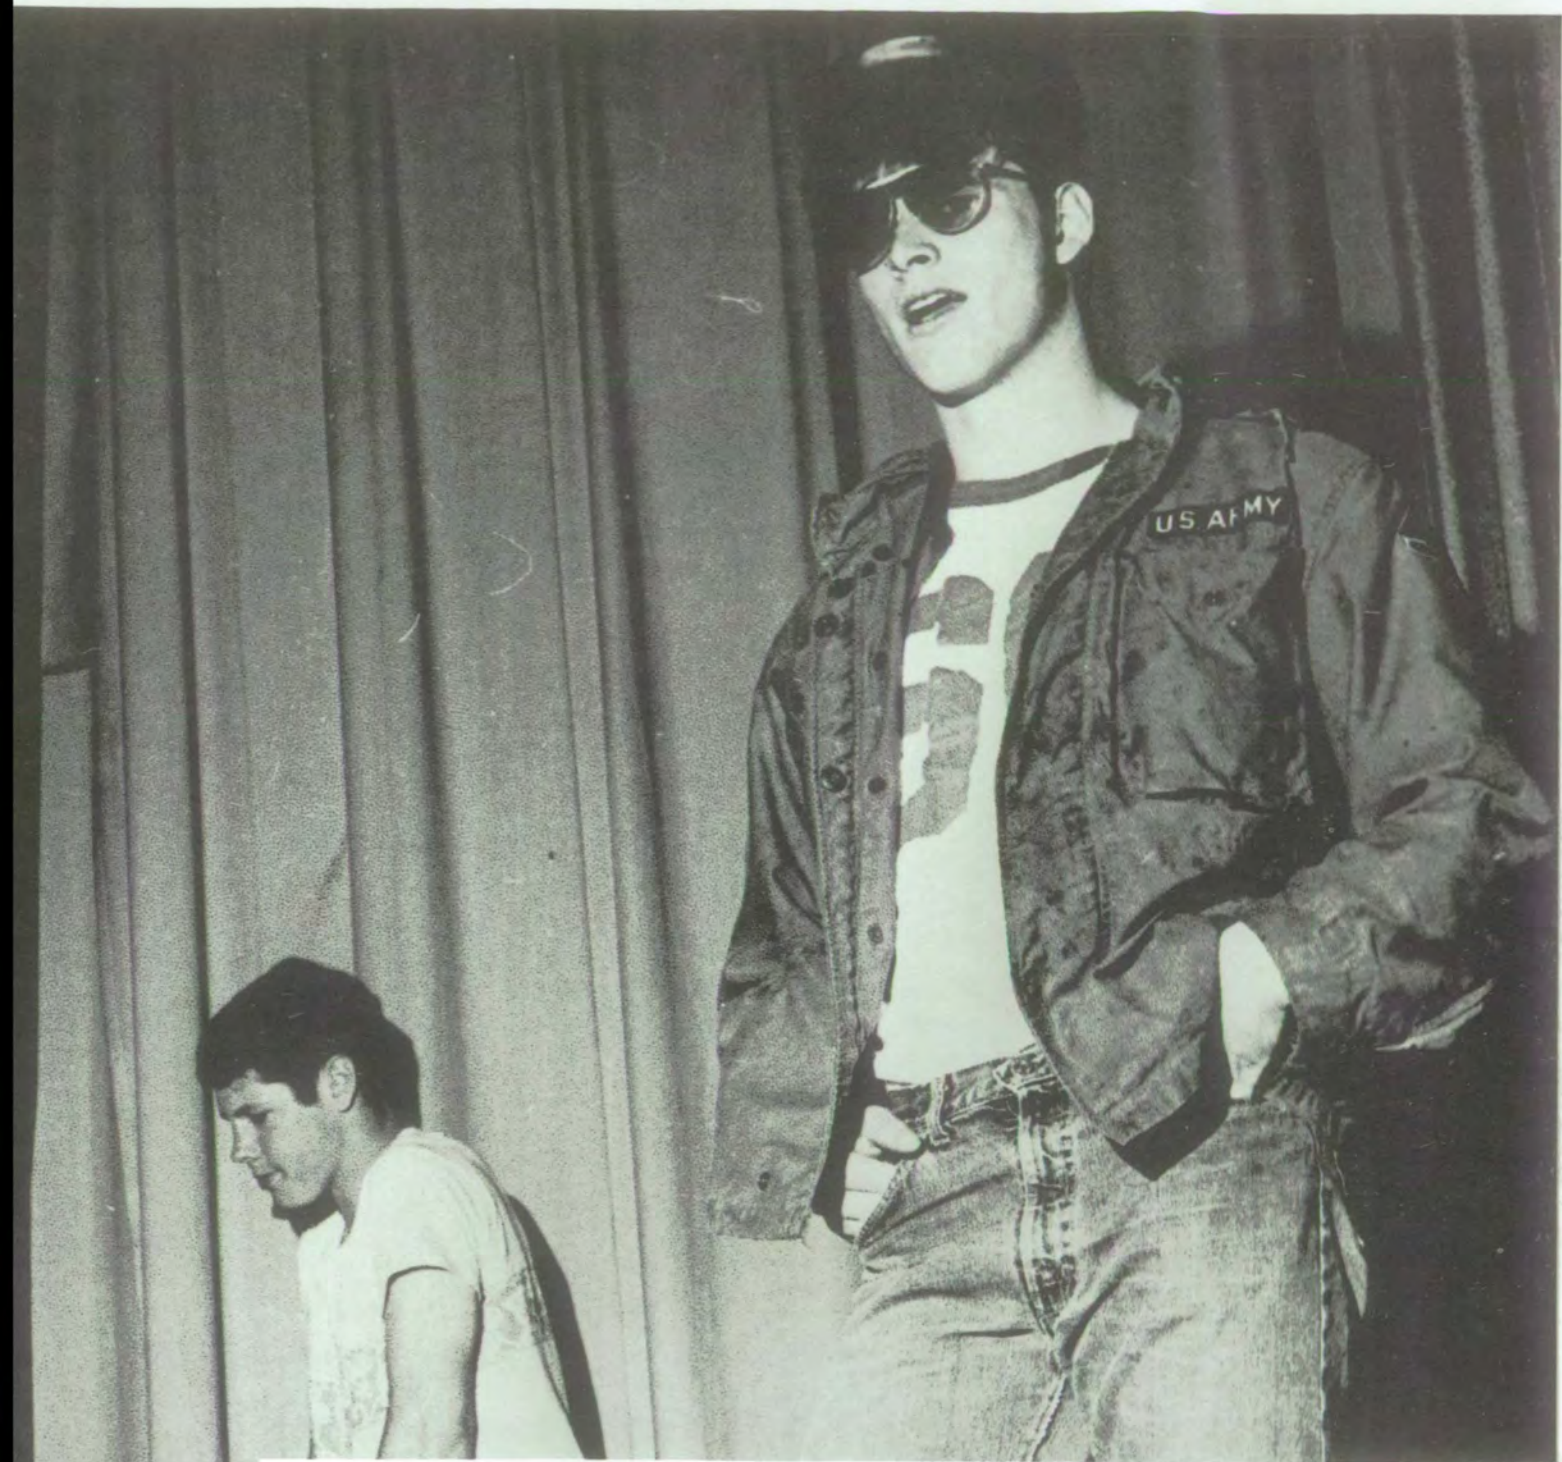

Jim Carter

A release of tension
A time to physically fulfill
A crowd comes to its feet
A game is won
A game will be lost
The victor triumphs in success
The loser sighs in defeat
And so it is
The language of sports.

Student Life

The ability to cooperate with others is the main purpose of many extra curricular activities. The school engages in such events that range from a football homecoming to school plays for drama minded students. Spirit from the student body enables extra activities to exist and function so as to promote pride in L.U.H.S.

Student Body Officers

Fellow students,

In writing this farewell, I express the thoughts of myself as well as the other executive and student council officers.

We have enjoyed our job of mediator between students and faculty. It has been our pleasure to try organizing and securing extra advantages that make school something more than simply a boring routine. Obtaining the "lounge-study" period gave us personal satisfaction as we saw you enjoying it. We were happy to exchange an assembly with Albany for your pleasure. This year has also seen the advancement of areas in extra-curricular activities. Delegations for a mock republican convention were organized for the politically-minded students, the Aquamaids club involved our sportingly enthusiastic mermaids, and our Lassies developed the lungs and coordination of our Irish-blooded girls.

We would like to thank you for your cooperation in making this year interesting, enjoyable, and successful. We started off with a gallant football team. With their hard work, we started winning games; our spirit soared. We are thanking you for never letting that ol'spirit down; it kept elevating as our wrestling team conquered all opponents to carry home a state championship.

I'm sure the strides you have made this year will not stop now, but thrive and rise to greater heights as the name of Lebanon High expands.

Lebanon High Greets Norma

To my fellow students,

Now that this wonderful year is almost over, I look back to the days full of experiences that I have left behind, to the many times we have spent together, sharing with you happy and sad moments, and I realize how little it took to get to love you and how much it takes to say good-bye.

I have given you the best of myself, but even better was what I received. You have walked with me through this new road of my life and I have always found in your spontaneous friendship the help and understanding that made it more enjoyable.

Very soon will be time for me to go back home, and I know I'll be leaving at L.H.S. part of my heart, but I also know that I'll be taking back my great experience and my love for a country and a community that not long ago welcomed me as part of them; and that regardless the distance or the years that might separate us, their picture will remain vivid in my memoirs.

Your Argentine friend

... And Welcomes Tim Home

"East is East, and West is West and never the twain shall meet." The American Field Service has proven an exception to this quotation, for not only have the East and West met, but through a better understanding of countries, international peace has been promoted.

Spending three memorable months in Fukui, Japan, Lebanon's own foreign exchange student, Tim Olmstead, helped bring the eastern and western world closer together. While in Japan, Tim attended school with his brothers and sisters of the Iwanaga family. Learning the Japanese customs, sharing thoughts and cultures, touring the country, and meeting many new people were activities which made this trip a unique experience.

Through the knowledge and experience that Tim and other AFS students carry with them, there is a chance that the future holds peace for all nations.

Tim shares his slides, ideas, and experiences that he brought back from Japan during a Tri-Y meeting.

An international bond is formed between Tim's Japanese school and LUHS when Tim presents student body president Ed Osterman with the flag of Japan.

Rod Pulliam and Toni Atkins wisely place a box next to their handouts, so that the more astute freshmen will use that, instead of the floor.

Debbie Peters is caught by the photographer "borrowing" the guidance center's pencils, while Bruce Hake sits innocent and unsuspecting.

Freshmen Beckie Warwick, Peggy Wells, Stephanie Stevens, and Barb Hasenyager work diligently on their float's motif.

For the first time in many years the Lebanon Warriors defeated their homecoming opponents, the Albany Bulldogs, by the score of 25-6. Festivities started on the eve of the big night with a downtown rally and street dance. Competition of clubs for the best homecoming window display also preceded the annual event, where Thespians and Library Club tied for first place. Just before the game, a serpentine twisted its way through the streets of Warriorland, causing excitement throughout the Warrior nation. During halftime the class floats, constructed in places from home garages to an airport hangar, proudly moved around the field. The Class of '71 took the honor of winning the float trophy. Each float, bearing the theme "Victories on the Warrior Warpath", was graced with the princess from its class. Queen Aleita Mullen and her court glowed with the excitement of the evening. It all came to a close with "Grant's Blue Boys" playing at the annual Homecoming dance.

George Orwell's novel, '1984', adapted for the stage, is an exposure of the totalitarian state, its dehumanizing and demoralizing effects on the individual human being, and its reliance on authority and fear for the maintenance of the state.

With such slogans as "War is Peace," "Freedom is Slavery," and "Ignorance is Strength" the state begins its "re-education and re-integration" of the human creature into this sterile, loveless society. The state controls all news media, all writing and consequently, all history; by controlling the past the state is controlling the future and it is this distortion of the truth which finally drives Winston Smith, a worker in the Ministry of Truth—one of many such ironies—to take the initial step in what will eventually result in a full scale intellectual rebellion.

The play is a look at a highly mechanized future in which the human beings must necessarily be subordinated to the will of the state in order to insure continued domination.

John Girod looks on as Rod Pulliam shows Lynn Gerry and Dana Livesay the comforts of the Inner Party.

Helen Hodson sings a song that reveals the days before Big Brother.

An annual activity, the Winter Formal, was sponsored by the senior class on December 9, in the high school cafeteria. The couples entered the Christmas decorated room through a doorway outlined in holly, angel hair, and twinkle lights. The theme of the dance, "A Wishful Winter", was carried out by a wishing well in the center of the room in the principal color of blue and white. Snowflakes of paper adorned the walls of the room, and a waterfall and little deer depicted a winter scene. Entertainment was provided by the Dennie Costi Trio, who also added to the Christmas spirit by their Christmas selections.

Jim Rauch, Pynne Looper, Debbie Parks, and Steve Bolman enjoy Mr. Way's attempt to tell a joke.

Sandi Thome and Dan Wyn fight it out to determine whose birthday they are celebrating.

Jackie Beam, with a devilish gleam in her eye and a lustful smile, makes a pass at the ever available Mr. Irresistable (?) Dalt Johnson.

Twirp Week

American Field Service student, Norma Gonzales, teaches her twirp date, Pat Blanchat, the latest in Argentine dancing.

"Me Jane, You Tarzan" was the frantic cry of hundreds of girls as they raced off into the jungle of twirp week, November 6-10. Twirp tags, which were placed on the huge twirp board in the main hall, were proof of which Janes captured which Tarzans. Early in the week was match day, with each couple similarly clad. On another day the Lebanon jungle was filled with furious animals as each Jane brought a stuffed beast for her mate to carry with him all day. In this dating game since the girls were taking the place of the males, they were often seen opening doors, carrying books, and buying lunch for their Tarzans. Friday was hush day, a time when all the fairer sex could not communicate with the guys, for if they did a hush card must be given to him. Dalton Johnson, receiver of the most hush cards, was crowned "Mr. Irresistable" at the twirp dance, featuring the "Holden Caufield," which brought another fun-filled twirp week to a close.

Dr. Hyde, or Glenda Schenck, connects the last wire on her 260 pound bunny as Paul Jensen tries to revive the bunny's heart by pumping his ear and pinching his belly button.

The Christmas season can generate many emotions from different individuals as Sue Merzenich, Don Stanwood, Mike Warner, and Gertie Schrader illustrate.

Miss Merry Christmas Dance

F.B.L.A. sponsored another first as they presented the Miss Merry Christmas Dance on December 16. A court was elected by the student body, and it consisted of Queen Kathy Shipman and her escort Dennis Pollack, Junior princess Lee Ann Atkins and escort Tony Sinclair, Sophomore princess Pat Wells and escort Harold Osterman, and Freshman princess Diane Hayes and escort Eugene Townsend. The court sat in an area surrounded by fir and pine boughs, holly, and artificial snow. Red candles and holly decorated the tables where refreshments were served, and mistletoe hung at many strategic points. Entertainment was provided by "John Jay and the Messengers."

Jamboree: "We've

"We've Got Spirit" was the peppy theme of this year's "Spirit Week" and basketball jamboree. The senior class came up with top honors for the "Spirit Week" activities, but the other three classes were by no means quiet. The competition ran high as the classes staged morning rallies, musical entertainment at noon, clever posters, candy sales, and "Warrior Cookies" in the cafeteria. The amount of spirit aroused was evident by the seven rally buses that were filled for the event. Friday morning the varsity rally squad and the pep club led a flag raising ceremony. That afternoon the annual jamboree pep assembly was held where the pep club, varsity cheerleaders, and pepband presented a routine to the student body. These students worked many hard hours to prepare this very impressive showing.

Steve Johnson takes a grand leap for the Warriors grabbing two points against the Sweet Home Huskies.

With spirit like this, no wonder LHS rated high in the evening's activities.

Got Spirit"

The days of Spirit Week came to a close when the long-awaited jamboree arrived. As students from Lebanon, Corvallis, Albany, and Sweet Home entered Gill Colliseum, a high feeling of excitement vibrated against the walls of the gym. Our team performed well against its district competitors during the games that were played. All the schools gave fine performances in the pep and rally competition with Corvallis coming out on top. But Lebanon was right behind them with a close second.

Once again the jamboree was over, the posters were taken down. But it was the start of a new basketball season with a fine team to bring victories back to Warriorville.

The pep band, under student director Fred Shipley, played an important part in Lebanon's performance by accompanying the pep club in "We've Got Spirit."

Rally squads, pep clubs, and basketball teams all contributed to the glowing spirit of this year's jamboree.

Girls' League "Tonight You

The night air was filled with the sounds of soft music and gaiety as many enjoyed the annual Girls' League Formal "Tonight You Are Mine." The theme of the event was carried out with the color scheme of pink and orange. The entrance into the cafeteria was encircled with a huge ten-foot heart made from orange and pink flowers, and the tables were decorated with the same type of flowers. Accenting the room was a miniature garden containing a small water fountain with pink and orange flower trees. The music for the evening was provided by "The Shadows."

Jolene Lemons and Brad Richey are caught candidly posing for the annual staff photographer.

Tim Bird and Mark Burdell wonder why they can't do the Boogaloo at the Girls League Formal, as their dates, Karen Richey and Darlene Drew, look on.

Lyle Nordstrand's warning is too late as sister Sharon decides to borrow back her hair piece from Maureen Daugherty.

Formal : Are Mine"

With a look of scorn, Jim Carter admonishes Suzie Shearer for dancing on his feet. Dean Cole and Maryj Gustine listen with amusement as Tom Peters smothered his unknown date.

Junior-Senior Prom: "Love is Blue"

Queen Marla I

For one evening, the thoughts and dress of Lebanon students turned formal as this year's version of the Junior-Senior Prom was held. The Elk's Temple Ballroom was appropriately decorated with blue and silver balloons and daisies to symbolize this year's theme of "Love is Blue." The stage was set in a large cracked heart, with flowers accenting the curtains and paper doves holding the princesses' names. A silhouette of a boy and girl was hung on the wall with a fountain set in front, and helium-filled balloons surrounded the band. Cindy Jensen and Carol Gilliam were the general chairmen of the event.

The Prom court included princesses Alice Bagley, Deanna Johnson, Lee Ann Atkins, April Estep, Gertie Schrader, Maureen Daugherty, and Queen Marla Roberts. Queen Marla I was crowned by Principal Lawrence Page in ceremonies conducted by Junior Class President Dan Straney.

Music was provided by a segment of the Portland State stage band. A special number entitled "The Impossible Dream" was sung by Patti Downing in honor of Queen Marla. This year's prom was enjoyed by all in attendance and will always be remembered by the graduating seniors.

Senior Class Assembly

Tom Chandler looks as if he can't believe the rowdy riff raff in his school, as Dan Wyn, Jim Rauch, Mike Lynch, and Dennis Dixon (it's a real beard!) conform his initial impression.

With their theme as "The Other Brothers" the seniors, in their last big happening of their high school lives, displayed an excellent show of talent in a take-off on T.V.'s Smothers Brothers Show. By using the format of a variety show the senior class was best able to exhibit the talent that has made them an outstanding graduating class. Not only did the seniors display their already famous musical talent, but they also surprised the audience with a fine array of talented comedians. To end their last assembly the seniors had Grant's Blue Boys, who grew up with the senior class and its assemblies, sock it to them with a medley of Bee Gee hits. It was "magnafantastico."

Junior Class Assembly

The junior class took advantage of the Christmas season with their presentation of "The Night Before Christmas" on December 15th. This assembly illustrated that one does not have to believe in Santa Claus himself to know what the true Christmas spirit is. Bill Austin played the part of the little orphan boy who did not believe in Santa. In trying to stay awake all night with Jan McVicker, another little orphan, to prove that Santa would not come, many interesting events took place, including dancing dolls, a drummer boy, a weather report, and an amateur hour on television. Tiring of television they switched to reading Life Magazine. Out of its pages came a scene about the hippies who also have Christmas and even a "hippy Santa Claus", Helen Hodson. From Herbie's Christmas Eve experiences he discovered that Santa stood for more than just presents and candy canes; he stood for happiness and the joy of giving. The entire cast finished off the story with the singing of "We Wish You A Merry Christmas."

Sophomore Class Assembly

Because their assembly fell on the date of February 22, the sophomores presented an assembly based on the theme of George Washington—the comical side of Washington's life including the day he was named; a day at school; the day he chopped down the cherry tree; Paul Revere's ride; and his inauguration ball. Everyone participating in the assembly enjoyed themselves and have hopes to make next year's assembly even better!

Paul Revere Osterman and his famous horse (Millie Greenly and Karen Richey) rest under the dubious eye of Bobby Jo Eeds.

"Grant's Blue Boys"

Together since their freshmen year when they highlighted the Freshmen class assembly, "Grant's BlueBoys" are now rated as the top rock group in the state of Oregon. Winners of the state Jaycee Band Contest, the BlueBoys have played with such name groups as the "Animals," "Don and the Goodtimes," and the "Wailers." A busy summer awaits Larry Page, Dan Daily, Steve Holbrook, and Steve Carter as they compete in the national Jaycee Band Contest at Atlantic City, New Jersey, and write and record original and known hits. They will continue to please northwest dance-goers with four outgoing and individual personalities as well as with the sounds of the BeeGees and the Rascals.

Grant Johnson, a member of "Grant and the BlueBoys," was an individual to be remembered not only by the Blue Boys, but by everyone who had ever known him.

May Day was an exciting and eventful day to all the student body. Queen Pam II reigned the occasion with grace and poise, with her lovely court including Barb Randall (Maid of Honor), Vikki Nugent, Gayle Downing, Patti Downing, Linda Chambers, Judy Ray, and Norma Gonzales. The gym was colorfully decorated in yellow, blue, green, and white by the hardworking Paleteers Club. The court was surrounded by a backdrop of yellow and white while their names were written on large white daisies. Entertainment included several selections by the band and chorus, followed by the Lebanon Lassies in a sword dance. After the crowning ceremony a duel track meet was held with Sweet Home, and that night was a dance at the Elks Temple, with music provided by "Grant's BlueBoys."

Sports

The ecstasy of victory, the torment of defeat—both a part of the athlete's life and the school's history. Lifted by the want to be supreme in all sports, students rallied around the banner of spirit to beckon the Warrior teams to victory. Coupling the determination of athletic and student spirit brought those triumphs to the halls of Lebanon High.

Who could deny that Lebanon Warrior football 1967 was one of the greatest in the history of the school? Combining the talents of two first team All-Staters, Oregon's A-1 Coach of the Year, six district All-Stars, and some 30-odd young men of determination, Lebanon's potent football team battled to an 8-1 record, a district co-championship, and a seventh place ranking in the state.

The laurels heaped upon Coach Gleason Eakin's "all for one and one for all" bunch were many and all well-deserved. Al White, a leader all season in the state's scoring and rushing departments (scoring 92 points and gaining well over 1,000 yards), gained first team All-State halfback. Pairing with White on the first team was Mark Copeland, a hard-blocking guard and a fiery animal on defense. Halfback Jim Carter received an honorable mention in state by gaining over 600 yards rushing and by highlighting a defensive secondary in which he personally intercepted 13 passes.

Coach Eakin was voted by his fellow coaches of the state as A-1 Coach of the Year. Some of the credit must go to his able assistants—Thurman Bell, Dean Soule, and Barry Adams—but Eakin was instrumental that in two short years he moved the Warrior football reputation from that of a doormat to that of a district champion and one to be recognized by all.

White and Copeland placed first team on both offense and defense on the District 8 All-Star Team. Also included in the elite group were: Jim Carter, halfback, first team defense, second team offense; Steve Cantwell, guard-tackle, first team defense, second team offense; Jerry Cutts, quarterback, second team offense; and Mike Jones, linebacker, honorable mention defense.

Vowing to play their games "one at a time," the Warriors opened against the Grizzlies of Ashland, who were acclaimed 30 point favorites. When the precisioned Warrior grid machine had finished its work, Ashland only owned pre-game press clippings—and Lebanon a 46-7 victory parlayed by Al White's four touchdowns. Traveling next to Prineville the Warriors, behind Jim Carter's three TDs methodically shut-out the Cowboys 32-0.

In their home debut, Eakin's forces took their first football victory in the three year history of McNary High School, by giving the Celtics a 38-0 drubbing. The fourth victory of the season came at the expense of Crater as the Warriors moved up in the state polls by humiliating the Comets by a 38-7 score.

For many fans and players alike the Homecoming game of 1967 was the most satisfying of the year. The battle pitched the undefeated and fifth-ranked Albany Bulldogs against the unblemished 4-0 record of the eighth-ranked Warriors. Spurred by enthusiastic student support the fired-up Warriors rode the passing arm of Jerry Cutts, who passed for three scores, to a 25-6 victory.

The following week brought disappointment to the Warrior camp and the only mark on a great season. Adverse conditions, nervousness, and those "only if's" hampered the Warriors as they fell to second-ranked South Salem in a hard fought 21-13 contest.

ter-of-factly downed North Salem, 19-6. But news of an Albany victory over South Salem, which again put the team in a position for a shot at the state playoffs, spurred enthusiasm and launched the Warriors to a 27-0 victory over the Corvallis Spartans in the mud.

Returning home for what unfortunately turned out to be the last game of the season, the Warrior grid machine, led by Al White's 26 points, took apart traditional rival Sweet Home, 40-22. The win gave the team a co-championship in the district with South Salem—but the Saxons continued on to state by virtue of that lone victory over the Warriors.

Coach Larry Stenick's Junior Varsity team gave a crystal-ball look into the future of Lebanon football by putting together an impressive 6-1-1 record. The J.V. gridders had a lightning offense that was capable of striking from anywhere, and teaming with the defense carried them to victories over Silverton, McNary, Newport, North Salem, Corvallis, and Sweet Home. The tie, 19-19, came in a rugged game with Albany; and the loss at the hands of South Salem. The team was made-up entirely of sophomores who should prove their outstanding ability in future years of varsity competition.

Playing as one team, and other times as two separate teams, the young Warriors gained the needed experience for later years of competition on the home gridiron. Their great numbers further speared hopes for many more years of winning ways in Warriorville.

The "C-C" squad was made-up from a bevy of sophomores and juniors headed by soph standout Terry Eastham. Eastham broke the existing River Park course record with a time of 12:32, and also gave an inkling of things to come by finishing fifth in district.

Under the inspiration of performing in a new gym, the swimmers took a sixth place in district—highlighted by several outstanding efforts. Frank Moore and sister Liz were consistent winners for the young Warriors, providing the team with added experience and inspiration. In all the team picked up a momentum that will carry it to many more victories in the tank wars.

"Somebody just stole my trunks," exclaims a startled Frank Moore, "and I don't think it was anybody I know."

The 1967-1968 basketball season was one spotted with heart breaking defeats, yet highlighted by some stunning upsets. Coach Barry Adams, in his first season as Warrior roundball monitor, found the going a bit rough, but his charges continued their spirited play while marking up a 6-15 record.

The Warriors featured a balanced scoring attack which favored nearly every member of the team. Second Team All-District Mike Warner was a consistent performer who lent his talents to each victory accomplished. The young team was hampered by a plague of one to five point losses which robbed them of the possibility of six victories which could have gone either way.

The season's first victory was over Cottage Grove. The Warriors managed to up-end their opponents, 43-38, on the scoring parade led by Ron Miller and Steve Johnson. The next two victories came at the hands of traditional rival Sweet Home . . . 67-52 and 70-67. The victories over the Huskies were parlayed by heads-up play and a great individual effort by each team member. In the first game Dean Cole's hot hand provided the victory, while Cole and Steve Burris dominated the scoring in the second contest.

Balanced scoring and a torrid fourth quarter handed the Warriors their next victory, 49-46, over North Salem. Albany was the next to feel the sting of the Warriors' upset machine as Dean Cole's shot at the buzzer surprised the Bulldogs, 48-47. The season's last victory fell on the South Salem Saxons. Mike Warner and Steve Johnson poured in 32 points together to scuttle the Saxons by a score of 77-73.

In terms of a won-loss record the Warrior's season was not the most successful; but in terms of sportsmanship and school pride it was indeed a season to be proud of.

Under the eagle-eye of Coach Bill Machamer the run and gun Junior Varsity basketball team stamped through a most successful season. Led by nine juniors and three sophomore standouts, the Braves developed into one of the roughest teams in the tough Valley League.

State Championships! There is no better way to describe the 1967-1968 Varsity Wrestling season. What Coach Dick Weisbrodt could not provide in teaching and inspiration, his grapplers made up in pride. The team performed with such pride under the adverse conditions they faced—that the State Championship was just the icing to a great season.

The wrestling season was one of disappointment as well as success. After taking first place in a tough Hillsboro tournament and dual meet wins over Corvallis, Hillsboro and Albany, the Warriors met some stubborn competition. They finished second in the Canby tournament, and third at Marshfield while dropping dual meets to Canby, 24-23, David Douglas, 26-21, and Corvallis, 31-14.

The last part of the season started the Warriors on the upswing again. They won the last three dual meets over Sweet Home, North Salem, and McNary by the large scores of 34-17, 34-11, and 30-17 respectively and edged Crater for first place in their own Lebanon Invitational.

The Warrior grapplers did almost everything possible in the District meet. Seven first place ribbons and two seconds were taken by Lebanon matmen, but Corvallis edged the Warriors by 5 points to win the District Title. District Championships were gained by Dan Speasl, Paul Jensen, Tim Olmstead, Mike Jones, Jim Crumley, Tom Chandler, and Mike Calahan. Calahan also won the Outstanding Wrestler

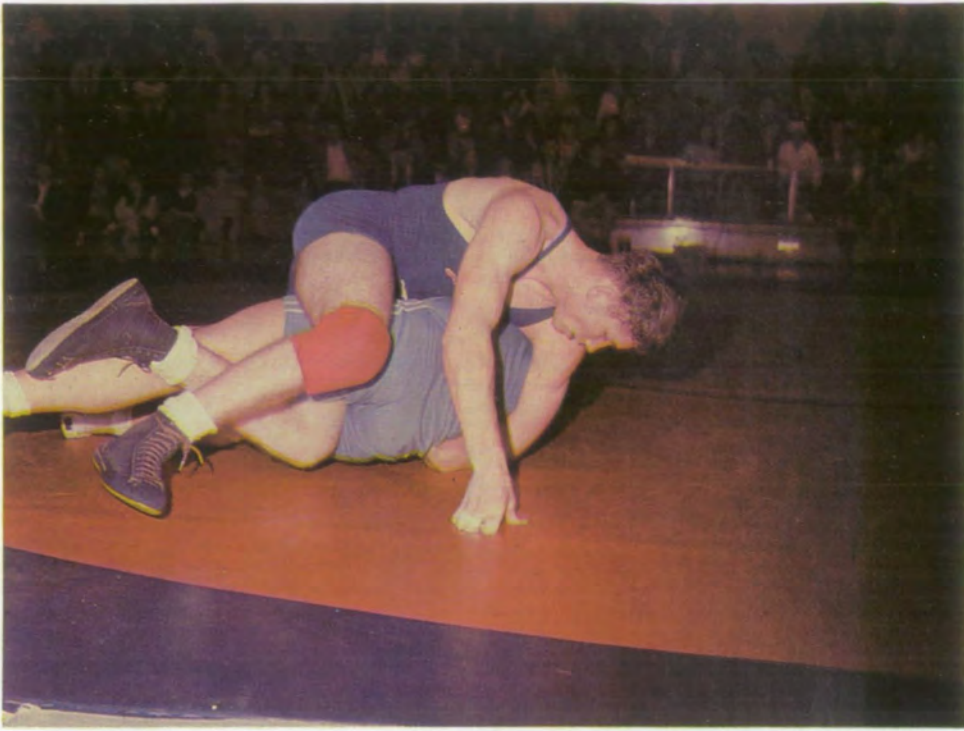

Jerry Hubert, Paul Jensen, Dan Calahan, Dennis Ditterick, Ken Eeds, Monte Cray, Dan Speasl.

Award at District.

The biggest moment in Lebanon wrestling history was yet to come. After an almost disastrous second round of the state meet, the Warriors placed champion Jim Crumley, runnerup Jerry Hubert, third places to Mike Jones and Tom Chandler, a fourth place to Dan Speasl, and Mark Copeland captured a sixth. The Warriors scored 51 points to 42 points for Marshfield and 41 points for Canby to earn the first full State Championship in Lebanon history.

The Lebanon Warrior Varsity track team composed of many unseasoned performers and lacking depth managed only an average 1968 season. Coach Dale Reynolds, in his twelfth year at L.U.H.S., suffered a poor season compared to his .667 percentage compiled in past seasons.

The season started with the Oregon Indoor Meet at Portland in January. Performing for Lebanon were Dave Brannan and Lynn Plagmann. Brannan took the high school title in the 60 yard high hurdles in a meet record time of 7.4 seconds with Plagmann finishing a very respectable fifth. Brannan's time was recorded as the fastest indoor high school time in the nation for 1968.

The outdoor season was not as bright.

Leading thinclads were Brannan, sprinter Al White, javelin thrower Mark Copeland, discus man Mike Knight, distance runner Gordon Weins, and jump man Ron Miller. Due to lack of valuable seconds and third places, dual meet wins were a rarity. The district and state meets proved more successful, however, as the Warriors proved themselves representative.

Future years for Coach Reynolds look considerably better with many fine sophomores and juniors returning to bolster the thinclad corps in 1969. These include Miller, Weins, sprinters Bill Austin and Donn Spady, distance men Rick Mudrow, Terry Eastham, and Steve Neuman, jumper Jerry Gazeley and weightmen Tom Peters and Bruce Hake.

Dave Brannan takes a well needed rest as he simultaneously takes a nap and balances on the high jump bar.

Terry Eastham and a Sweet Home man exchange laughter on the back strait as Mr. Reynolds shouts the punch line of his favorite joke from the background.

Wilson, Roger Carlson, Mark Simons, Terry Sharp, Bruce Sylvester, Steve Parker.

The eighteen members of Junior Varsity Track developed as the season progressed into one of the finer squads in the district. The group of die-heart members strived to gain their victories, which came because of the team effort. The Braves developed into a tight unit as they improved themselves.

A flying leap is made by Dick Altree in an attempt to make it over a low hurdle.

Under the guidance of Coach Dave Williams the Freshman Track Team enjoyed a successful season parlayed by the performance of many outstanding individuals. The squad had its share of speed and weight which cast the die for the many victories achieved during the season.

Don't tell Mark Simmons, but the hurdles are pointed the other way.

Girls Track

Row 2: Miss Howard, Bonnie Gibbs, Karen Nelsen, Becky Borst, Cheryl Patterson, Carla Hazen, Michele Huston, Lynette Nelsen, VernaLehn, Margee Woods. Row1: Dorthea Lines, Pam Abrell, Denice Barnes, Connie Fancher, Patty Waters, Debbie Perry, Gail Boyd, Diane Hayes, Linda Pollock.

Lebanon's Girl Track team, a powerhouse in the state, continued its winning ways throughout the increasingly tougher season. Led by a bevy of top notch performers that included several outstanding record holders, the team kept its reputation of being one of the finest teams in the state intact.

Spurred by the record setting pace of Gail Boyd, Karen Nelsen, and Cheryl Patterson, the feminine tracksters sought to propel themselves to a second straight state championship.

Patty Waters takes to the air in another flying broad jump.

National record holder Gail Boyd demonstrates her winning style by coming off the blocks far ahead of her nearest competitor.

Cheryl Patterson puts one out there, as spectators shudder at the brute strength.

Up and over goes Karen Nelsen as she captures another first in the high jump.

Varsity Baseball

Row 2: Chuck Nugent, Ed Lawrence, Steve Hellberg, Jim Luoto, Mike Garron, Rick Hayes, Don Wolfe, Jerry Simmons,

Coach Thurmon Bell, in only his second year as head baseball coach, led a group of spirited Warriors to a very successful season, finishing high in the district race and in the top ten teams of the state.

Consistently led by All-Stater Jim Carter, the slugging center-fielder, the Warriors proved to be the top hitting, fielding, and running team they were predicted to be. Top pitching by soph Jim Luoto and senior Don Wolfe highlighted the hitting attack built around Carter, first sacker Mike Garron, sophomore catcher Rick Hayes, and outfielder Jerry Simmons. Carter, only 5'7" tall and 155 pounds small, hit around the .550 mark leading the team in hits, extra base hits, home runs, runs scored, and stolen bases. Simmons, one of the top pitchers in the league last year, sustained a pre-season shoulder injury and turned his talent from pitching to hitting. Luoto, in his rookie season, hurled a pair of one-hitters with Wolfe throwing a sparkling no-hitter against usually powerful Nesucca.

With a good Junior Varsity squad and Frosh corps on the way up, Coach Bell's future as head mentor seems assured to be a beneficial one. Top returnees off the Varsity next year will be Luoto, Hayes, outfielders Mike Rice and Dan Nixon, infielders Steve Johnson and Dave Robertson.

Dave Robertson hits the dirt in a wild attempt to steal third.

Sluggger Jerry Simmons tries to outrun the ball to the base, as opponent awaits the throw.

Dan Nixon and Steve Hellberg take a time-out to discuss a play for the next inning.

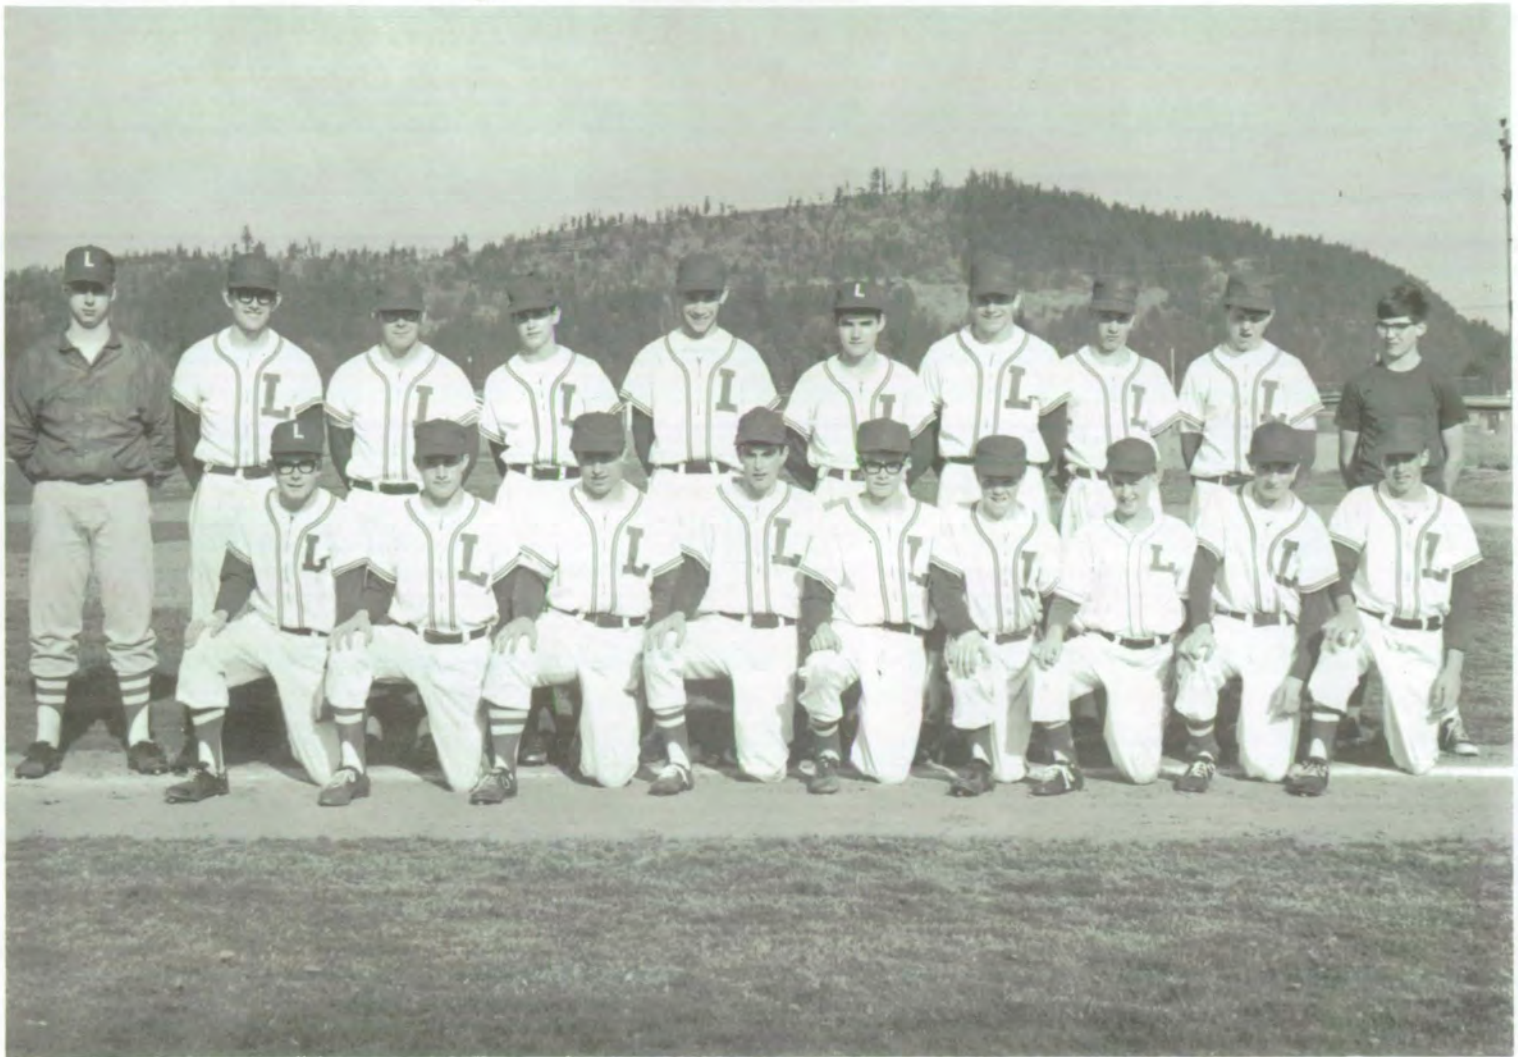

The All-State stub, Jim Carter puffs around third while opponents look for the baseball on top of the swimming pool roof.

Coach "Ding-Dong" Bell finally finds a useful job while making a ringing catch.

Junior Varsity Baseball

Lalley, Chris Romeo, Marty Christ, Geoff Smith, Danny Speasl, Kevin Blanchat, Benjie Shaw.

Coach Dale Twenge led his Junior Varsity b-ballers through a satisfying season highlighted by numerous victories. The building year team produced much fine talent which will support future varsity teams.

Dan Calahan awaits the pitch and the umpire's decision.

Freshmen Baseball

Coach Soule's rough and tough bunch of freshmen b-ballers marched through the spring sport with a list of victory streaks. The young Frosh proved a team of good hitting power coupled with an excellent pitching staff that often was able to come up with the shutout wins. The team matured as the season progressed and readied themselves for future years in the Warrior uniform.

Hurler Mike Monroe winds up with his overhand, underground, backward 'soul' pitch.

"Raisin!" yells Don (Fat Albert) Fuller as he blows a 30 foot chip shot.

This season was primarily a building year for the Warrior linksters. With the efforts of graduating seniors Don Fuller and Jerry Cutts, sophomore Doug Robbins, and junior Bruce Robbins, the team came on stronger as the season progressed and made a fine showing at the District Tournament in Salem. In next year's team lays a great potential and its outcome will prove interesting.

Jerry Cutts lines one up before applying his famous "candy" touch for another hole-in-ten.

Bruce Robbins socks it to the golf ball, unfortunately it turned out to be an Easter egg left from last year's hunt.

Organizations

A service to perform, an opportunity to better acquaintances, and the joy of working with others—all tend to pull organizations into the working fabric they are. From the banquets of IRL to the frolic of painting posters, students work together to accomplish a purpose. Such are the organizations of L.U.H.S., striving to serve their school and community.

Student Council

Student council consists of ASB officers, representatives of each class, the president of Girls' League, and representatives from IAC. This council discusses and advises the administration on matters concerning the students and our school. Some of the innovations of student council this year were the starting of sophomore cheerleaders, joining a record club and buying a new record player for the cafeteria, the new recreational study halls, the exchange assembly with Albany, and various "clean-up the halls" campaigns.

IAC is made up of the presidents of each club in school. To discuss school problems and to consider suggestions and grievances of the clubs are its main purposes. This council meets once a month just before student council so that problems it discussed can also be brought up in student council.

Key Club

The aim of Key Club is to serve the school and the community and develop those aspects of leadership and citizenship in its members. Key Club is sponsored by Kiwanis and works close with it. A key-pal program is present with each Key Club member having an adult friend from Kiwanis. Also, two members from Key Club attend the Kiwanis meetings and report on high school functions. At Christmas time the Key Clubbers went out and picked up trees for the townspeople. Other services performed by the club are putting up the flag each morning and "cleaning up" after Halloween.

Mr. Cash's humor does not strike president Keith Rose as funny as they plan another function.

Linda Williamson, business manager, juggles the books to allow enough money for her next date.

The Hi-Light staff is responsible for publishing the school newspaper which comes out bi-weekly. This staff, headed by editor Connie Whitaker, has expanded the number of pages from the usual four to six and many times eight. Also, the complete style of the paper has changed; pages have changed size and columns have become wider. Several controversial editorials have been printed which have stirred student interest. Also, many interesting features were published for student enjoyment. The staff sponsored the "Hi-Light Hop" in March to raise money to partly fulfill its financial needs. Congratulations should go to the Hi-Light staff for a paper well done.

Warrior Staff

The yearbook staff devotes their study halls to providing the school with a record of the events of the year. They have complete charge of taking and developing pictures, laying up the pages, selling advertisements, and general distribution of the books. An academic section has been added this year to include the classroom section of school life, since a student is in his classes 95% of his school time. The staff's purpose is to serve the school to the very best of their ability, with the hope that the students will enjoy the finished product now and in the future.

Forensics, which acts as both a club and a class, is designed for students who have a speech background and wish to advance into competitive forms of speaking. The seven types of speaking offered in forensics are oratory, impromptu, interpretive reading, debate, extemporaneous speaking, after dinner speaking, and radio commentary. The students' skills in these areas are shown at various speech tournaments held throughout the year. Forensics is a lot of hard work, but it has many rewarding moments for its members.

Thespians

The two major projects of the National Thespians Society were the production of "1984" and "Harvey". Under the new leadership of Miss Shore the troupe also performed two one-act plays for the English classes. These two plays were under the directorship of Helen Hodson and Rod Pulliam. New members were initiated in the spring at the annual initiation banquet. Awards were then awarded to outstanding seniors for their dramatic ability.

Paleteers is a creative club whose purpose is to promote appreciation of art throughout the high school and community. This year Paleteers' major activities were the preparation of the May Day decorations and various school projects including regular art displays and shows. Funds for the club were derived from numerous candy sales, the concession stand, and the sale of "The Paleteers Snow Policies" during the winter months. To promote outstanding talent, a one-hundred dollar scholarship was awarded to a senior member for further study in the field of art. Other members also received recognition for their work and hours put into Paleteer activities by receiving club pins.

Republican Delegations

The Colorado and Iowa Republican delegations, composed of juniors and seniors, represented their respective states at the Mock Republican Convention that was held in May. This gave the students a first-hand opportunity to learn more about how the government works. At the convention held in Portland, students from all over the state were present playing the parts of the fifty states and other American Territories. The Republican presidential candidate was "chosen" along with the Republican platform. The event lasted for two days with the students staying overnight in Portland.

Tri - Y

Tri-Y is a girls' organization which is a branch of the Y.W.C.A. This club is registered with the National headquarters and carries out the broad program of this Christian group. Only junior and senior girls are privileged to join this club. It sponsors projects that are intended to develop national and international good will, as well as being a service club in the high school. Some of the many activities which make up Tri-Y are interesting talks, decorating bulletin boards, trophy cleaning, and slides. This year Tri-Y has managed to buy a new flag for the gym.

Bible Club

Interdenominational, the Bible Club has many purposes. Among them are providing spiritual guidance for those who want it, learning to be tolerant of the beliefs of other denominations, and learning to work with teenagers from other church backgrounds.

The club meetings consist of special speakers and musicians who enrich the members knowledge of different religions and denominations. They participate in a talent show, an after-graduation party for senior members, and a rally which is sponsored each year in order to educate the community in moral conflicts.

The Lebonskis is an active group whose purpose is to promote skiing and an interest in skiing and physical fitness. Membership is attained by an active participation in the club's activities. Many buses were taken to Hoodoo Ski Bowl and Mt. Bachelor. In the spring the annual initiation was held at Hoodoo where the new initiates performed numerous "skills" to prove their worth. If possible, the group will sponsor a water-ski trip and picnic before the close of school.

Future Teachers of America

The purpose of the Future Teachers of America is to learn about the opportunities in teaching, to cultivate the qualities essential in a good teacher, and to develop student leadership. Future Teachers of America is open to any boy or girl with a 2.5 grade average or better. Under the guidance of their advisors, F.T.A. has had a very successful year. The members took part in visitations to the grade schools and junior high where they were exposed to some of the different teaching methods. Various money making projects are promoted to provide for a scholarship that is given at the end of the year.

The Future Business Leaders of America is made up of students primarily interested in a secretarial or a business career. Membership is, therefore, restricted to those students enrolled in at least one business course. Activities of FBLA were the annual publication of the "Snoop scoop" and the state FBLA convention held in April. At this convention members compete in skill contests and a talent show. This club gives many students experience in the business area.

The Future Farmers of America or FFA as it is more commonly known is a National Organization of students who are enrolled in vocational agriculture classes in the high school. FFA is a non-profit, non-political, non-partisan voluntary organization which has as its primary objectives the development of citizenship, leadership and cooperation. The FFA carries out a number of worthwhile community and public service projects during the year and strives to be of service to the school. Among these activities are public speaking and parliamentary procedure, livestock judging, attendance at local, county and state fairs, and the Pacific International Livestock Exposition in Portland. The FFA is responsible for a number of educational field trips to visit business and industry related to agriculture and to see modern farming and agricultural methods being put to use throughout the state of Oregon. Another important part of the FFA's program is the vocational agriculture land laboratory on which members of the FFA may keep projects or may carry individual animal and crop enterprises as part of their Vo-Ag program. FFA members have found this to be an exciting and worthwhile organization which serves its community, its state, and its nation in developing in young people the attributes of good citizenship and leadership.

Hubert Griffith, Ron Wilkinson, John Wheeler, Mike Fancher, and Wes Weigel received the coveted "State Farmer Degree" at the 1968 State Convention. This is the highest award given to a Chapter member.

Steve Surry and Gerald Graham complete one of ten "sheep grafting crates" they and ag. mechanics members constructed.

Mr. Fancher instructs Larry Gatliff and Neal Ferrara in proper techniques of making plant cuttings in the new fiberglass greenhouse at the land laboratory.

Another mechanics project is this loading chute being finished by Paul Lariver.

Future Homemakers of America

The Future Homemakers of America club is for girls who have either completed one year of home economics or are presently enrolled. Highlighting the girls activities this year was a joint hayride with the FFA boys. A swimming party with the Sweet Home F.H.A. was one of the many activities the Lebanon girls participated in. They also collected for UNICEF and adopted a welfare family.

Future Nurse Club

The purpose of Future Nurse Club is to be of service to the community and to acquaint its members with the nursing field. Any sophomore, junior, or senior is eligible to join. The girls put in two hours of service every week at the hospital or a nursing home. Also, various field trips were taken to hospitals around the state.

DECA

Distributive Education Club of America is designed for students who plan on entering the business world. One of DECA's main projects is providing a job in a local business firm for each member to obtain experience. DECA is open only to juniors and seniors and all club members must be taking distributive education. Activities have included a trip to Lloyd Center where members were able to view first-hand how large retail business firms function, and the State DECA Convention in Portland. Funds were raised for the convention through ice cream sales, car washes, and a pop-bottle drive. DECA also sold calendars and donated the profits to the local United Fund drive.

Mike Ward adds up the salaries of the teachers with Sally Edgmon laughing because they are getting over paid, while Ron Alley checks the record book.

The library club is composed of past and present library science members who have an added interest in library work. Its main purpose is to improve our school library. The work consists of taking care of the circulation desk, processing new books, taking care of overdue books and fines, and assisting students in locating materials in the library. Projects undertaken this year were a field trip to Salem where the members were given a complete tour of the state library, a homecoming window display which tied for first place, a candy and cookie sale to raise money, and Mrs. Parsons, Lebanon Librarian, came to speak at one of the club's meetings. Each year the club provides two $75 scholarships for students wishing to further their library study.

Library Club

Steve Plinski and Kathy Bryant look on attentively as Stephanie Stevens intimidates library science students, Carol Loewen and Kathy McCoy, with her leaky pen.

This service organization is made up of junior and senior boys whose academic standing is above average and are interested in fire prevention. It is their duty to close all windows, turn off all lights, and direct students to the proper exits during a fire drill. They are trained in the use of the fire fighting equipment found in the school. Money for the club is attained through the sales of programs at football and basketball games. Also, they sponsored an after game dance to attain extra funds.

Instead of spending their money on such trivia as rally dances, Val Ellis, Mary Dunckley, Barb Randall, Terri Moody, Mike Bilyeu, Suzie Johnson, and Pat Blanchat buy programs from Mark Copeland and Jim Crumley.

Craig Jones enters his second childhood, or maybe he is still in the middle of the first, as he flies planes in aviation science.

Aviation club is designed for those juniors and seniors interested in working with and studying airplanes and other related areas of aviation. Activities done this year include the annual trip to Portland International Airport, interesting aviation movies shown during their meetings, and the model airplane contest where cash prizes were given.

Biology Club

The main purpose of Biology Club is to stimulate interest in the biological sciences. Activities during the meetings include members presenting demonstrations or projects and speakers from different fields of science. Field trips are taken throughout the year to promote an interest in the outdoors. One of the places visited is the coast, where sea life is intensely studied.

Science Club

The purpose of Science Club is to promote interest and knowledge in the field of science for the benefit of the members. The club consists of members who are interested in scientific projects. The Science Club has endeavored to accomplish its goals through science oriented projects and field trips to the Adair Air Force Station. They have also spent much time touring the School of Science at Oregon State University.

Science club members, Don Fuller and Herb Hazen, contemplate the trajectory and bend of light waves . . . Actually they can't figure out which slot to insert the film.

Southpaw Michelle Huston serves the birdie to her opponent in an after school game.

The purpose of the Girls' Athletic Association is to stimulate an active interest in girls' athletics and develop the playing ability of an individual in various sports. Membership in Gaa may be obtained by earning fifty points by participating in club activities or outside sports. The club sponsors beach trips and has many play-days and play-nights with neighboring schools.

Jim Crumley's authority seems to be forgotten as every letterman poses for the picture.

The purpose of Lettermen's Club is to promote sportsmanship, school spirit, and to act as a service club for the school. Annual functions of the club are to park cars during football games and to seat students during assemblies. To gain membership a boy must first, earn an athletic letter, and second, be voted in by two thirds of the present members.

Above: "A couple blankets and a pillow and this place could make a real nice home for somebody," muses Steve Holbrook as he crawls through one of the power mechanics more magnificently conditioned cars.

Power Mechanics

The purpose of power mechanics is to promote safety and interest in the school and community. One of their many safety projects was a road rally where they timed cars in a special race where certain speed limits were maintained. A cash prize was awarded to the winner. This club is made up of boys who are highly interested in the field of mechanics and auto safety. They do work on students cars and are open to perform service repairs for the public. Small scholarships are given to seniors for their outstanding ability in this area.

Machine Shop

The purpose of Machine Shop is to plan and promote better business practices and relations among the members. Activities undertaken this year was sponsoring a child overseas, building an incinerator for use in back of the shop area, and keeping the parking area behind the shops cleaned up.

"Man alive, this is the fanciest sewing machine I've ever seen!" says Victor Myronenko.

Portrait of a Cheerleader

What frail fantasies of God's creation are these
 To be tossed about as if mere puppetry were their game?
 Have they no bounds of energy?
 Have they no knowledge of defeat?
 Alas, ere the team win or lose,
 The cheerleaders are steadfast true
 Though they too suffer loss of team pride,
 Or reap the rewards of a victory in stride,
 They all agree that is part of the job.
 The tears with the trophy,
 The frowns with the loss,

The hollow crowd that jeers,
 It's music to their ears.
 Music in a special world all their own.
 A surprising world; knows no hate,
 But thrives on love, teamwork, and fate.
 Ask a cheerleader: "Will you trade
 all for one?"
 The reply: "No, dear sir, its all or none.
 We love the sport, the noise, the mob,
 We decreed our fate,
 It's part of the job."

Under the capable leadership of Mrs. Geymann, the concert choir had a busy and satisfying year. The fifty-six voice group presented a fall, Christmas, and spring concert, performed in the annual Jester Hairston festival at Albany, held an exchange concert with Redmond High School, and sang during Baccalaureate services for the seniors. The group, rated as one of the finest in the district, also sang in the halls at Christmas and toured the local grade schools.

Classes

Competition spurs pride, and pride spurs honor—competition, pride and honor are all synonymous words with each individual class. The Homecoming floats, the class plays, the pep assemblies—all competition funneled into spirit. This spirit molds the student body into a whole, capable of projecting their honor and pride into the facets of student life at L.U.H.S.

Senior Class Summary

Fall came, and we, the class of 1968, returned for the last time. We had finally reached the top, and found ourselves in the position of "Mighty Seniors" of LUHS.

Guiding our class for its last year were Dean Cole, president; Steve Plinski, vice president; Jerri Roth, secretary; Gayle Downing, treasurer; Judy Ray, Jim Carter, and Steve Cantwell, representatives. Student body officers from our class were Ed Osterman, president; Rod Pulliam, vice president; Patti Downing secretary; and Terri Moody, treasurer.

Helping to make our senior year most rewarding and memorable was Norma Gonzales, our exchange student from Argentina. Her happy face and cheerful smile will never be forgotten by her many American friends.

Under the spirited leadership of yell queen Lavonne Robertson, and the yell squad, including senior Linda Gazeley, we were in store for an exciting year of sports. Our football team was district co-champion, and our wrestling squad won the State A-1 championship. Al White was named Prep All-American and All-State along with Mark Copeland. Jim Carter was named to the State team in baseball. Jim Crumley was our state champion in wrestling.

Homecoming came to us for the last time. Queen

Aletta Mullen, Maid of Honor Patti McCallie, and Honorary Princess Norma Gonzales made the evening a truly spectacular one. In early December came the annual Senior Winter Formal. Our theme, "Wishful Winter," was carried out with beautiful decorations. The Dennis Costi Trio contributed to this successful and memorable evening. Shortly following was the F.B.L.A. sponsored "Miss Merry Christmas" dance. Pretty senior Kathy Shipman was crowned as "Miss Merry Christmas." In February was the Girls' League Formal, entitled "Tonight You Are Mine." This year's dance was ruled by Queen Georgia Varney, and her escort Doug Ulm.

Next came our fourth and last class assembly entitled, "The Other Brothers", a comical imitation of the Smothers Brothers show. Dean Cole and Craig Schmele starred as the "Other Brothers", with Steve Plinski starring as "Paul Patson." Other highlights were Angie Surmon as "Moldie O'Grief" and "Grant's BlueBoys."

Graduation is now upon us. We will soon have to say good-bye to our school, our classmates, our friends, and our teachers. But as we depart from these halls and classrooms, the memories of our high school days will remain with us. The memories of these years will always have a place in our hearts.

Upper Ten-Percent

Girls' And Boys' State

The annually sponsored American Legion Girls' and Boys' States were held at Willamette University and Oregon State University during the week of June 12 through June 17. The purpose of the event was to teach students the way a government functions through actual participation in the governmental procedures. The week was filled with the elections of city officials, county officials, and state officials from among the girl and boy states. Campaign rallies, posters, speeches, and campaign publicity helped to promote the candidates for the offices. A spirit of pride and patriotism was instilled in the students who attended; one that will continue to grow as they become older citizens of the United States.

Special Awards

Each month the Business and Professional Women's Club selects a senior girl to receive a plaque. She is selected for her school and community activities, her character, and her leadership ability.

A coveted honor given to an outstanding senior girl is the D.A.R. Good Citizen award. The senior class elects this girl for her character, dependability, activities, and scholarship.

Jackie Beam, D.A.R. Good Citizenship award winner, proudly displays the D.A.R. plaque.

B.P.W. GIRLS OF THE MONTH: Linda Gazeley, Neva Holder, Linda Chambers, Patti McCallie, Jackie Beam, Jerri Roth, Pat Grieve, Lavonne Robertson.

"Most Dependable," Dean Cole and Jackie Beam, are caught taking a short cut to the library.

Patti Downing looks on as her comrade for "Most Talented" Fred Shipley, enhales his arm in his French Horn.

Senior Personalities

Above: "Most Popular," Linda Gazeley and Jim Carter, after losing the rest of their friends, have to resort to each other for company.

Right: Pat Blanchat and Angie Surmon display their "Best Sense of Humor" as they prepare for a fun evening of grave digging.

"Best Dancer," Barb Randall, catches Jerry Hubert by his long locks before he falls on his face.

Judy Ray is rewarded for her outstanding good looks with a handshake instead of a kiss by Tom Chandler.

"Most Friendly" and amiable Ed Osterman and always "ever ready to make a buddy," Norma Gonzales, display some of their infamous effervescent "Friendliness."

Junior Class Summary

As they passed the halfway mark, the class of '69 quickly gathered speed as the lower-upperclassmen at LUHS. They selected as their leaders Dan Straney, president; Doug Hurst, vice president; Amy Bresler, secretary; Donna Varney, treasurer; and Barb Gray, Mel Kemper, and Chris Woods, representatives.

The year started with football, which proved very fruitful and exciting. Fourteen junior boys participated on the varsity level with Mike Jones receiving the honor of being on the Second Team All-District. Helping to lead the Warriors to victory were the junior members of the varsity rally squad; Sandi (Allison) Liming, Alice Bagley, April Estep, and Gertie Schrader. The junior princess for homecoming this year was Maureen Daugherty, escorted by Frank Moore. Also during the fall four juniors were on the cross country team. Basketball then followed with three junior boys playing on the varsity squad; Brad Richey, Steve Johnson, and Ron Miller.

Then in December came the junior class assembly which proved to be the best ever. The title was "The Night Before Christmas" with Bill Austin and Jan McVicker as the major characters. In the assembly Bill tried, and succeeded, to find the true meaning of Christmas.

Mike Bilyeu turns his temper towards Craig Thorne, as he rips the baseball dugout from its foundation onto Craig's crumbling spine.

Wrestling season speaks for itself, the State Championship, in which seven junior boys participated: Dennis Ditterick, Bill Dowding, Ken Eeds, Mark Harden, Mike Jones, Rod McCown, and Craig Thorne.

The next big event was the Girls' League formal where the junior class was represented by princess Debbie Clark and her escort Bill Duke. Baseball and track then followed in the spring with Steve Johnson, Eddie Lawrence, Dan Nixon, and Don Orr representing the juniors on varsity baseball while Bill Austin, Mike Jones, Ron Miller, Rick Mudrow, Steve Neuman, Tom Peters, Larry Simons, and Gordon Weins represented the juniors on varsity track.

The end of the junior year was capped off by the Junior-Senior prom. Carol Gilliam and Cindy Jensen were the chairmen of the event, with the theme "Love Is Blue." The court consisted of LeeAnn Atkins, Alice Bagley, Maureen Daugherty, April Estep, Deanna Johnson, Marla Roberts, and Gertie Schrader who brightened the whole evening.

As the junior year comes to a close, the class of 1969 is looking forward to a most successful senior year.

"We don't care how bad people say our junior class looks," says April Estep. "We love ourselves anyway. Yeah, Daddy!"

JUNIOR ROTARIANS: Mike Jones, Frank Moore, Ron Miller, Steve Neuman, Bill Moynihan, Dan Post, Don Orr.

Alice Bagley and Sandi Allison wonder how in the world they happen to be wearing the exact same outfits . . . again!

Linda Otta and Larry Thorpe repaint a fireplace for the Junior Class assembly.

Under the capable leadership of Dave Robertson, president; Randy Wall, vice president; Vicki McCallie, secretary; Pat Wells, treasurer; and Bobby Jo Eeds, Jerry Gazeley, Rick Hayes, and Randy Jantzi, representatives; the class of 1970 started the year as upper-lower classmen. During football and basketball seasons, the peppy J.V. cheerleaders Sharon Daugherty (queen), Debbie Downing, Patti Henderson, Carol Johnson, Susie Shearer, and Debbie Vincent backed the players.

At Homecoming the sophomores were represented well by princess Vicki Kasson and her escort Tom Whited. The princess for the "Miss Merry Christmas" dance selected by the class was Pat Wells escorted by Harold Osterman. Linda Vorderstrasse was chosen as the lovely sophomore princess at the Girls' League Formal, with Randy MacLean as her escort.

As the sophomores end the first half of their high school years, they look back on the fun they have had in the past. But what lies ahead is gaining the title of "upper classmen," with the hope of great accomplishments with plenty of spirit and determination.

"Red Rover, Red Rover, send Billy right over," yell Rick George, Doug Eilers, and Mike Keen as Robin Bellveal circles around for the kill.

Karen Mitchell, Lynn Winters, and Barb Cope-land put the finishing touches on their version of a belly button.

Freshmen Class Summary

The freshmen class started the year by electing their officers—president, Bob Shackman; vice president, Dave Plagmann; secretary, Carol Kenagy; treasurer, Terry Bresler; and representatives, Elaine Coughlin, Dan Griffith, Brad Daily, and Mike Cowgill. Many members of the freshmen class went to work constructing the Homecoming float, where they worked frantically to finish the float with the theme "Victory on the Warrior Warpath." They were the first freshmen class to ever win the trophy for the most outstanding entry. JuDee Butler was the freshmen princess for the big event.

The frosh rally squad was then elected and they were Jerri Moersch, Queen; Jolene Lemons; Marjy Gustine; Peggy Wells; Pynne Looper; and Debbie Parks. They helped lead the basketball teams to many wins.

Twirp week resulted in Dalt Johnson being crowned "Mr. Irresistible." They had to stop counting his hush cards at 350. Later during Spirit Week the freshmen worked hard painting everything orange and decorating things with orange paper. They showed a lot of school and team spirit. At the Miss Merry Christmas dance Diane Hayes represented the freshmen and her escort was Eugene Townsend. At the Girls' League Formal under the theme, "Tonight You Are Mine," Joan Baker was the freshmen princess and her escort was Mark Durlam.

The freshmen have enjoyed a very good year and are looking forward to next year when they will be the upper-lower classmen instead of the lower-lower classmen.

Sound is the objective and air is the media as horn-blowers Larry Draper, Sandi Decarmo, Niel Mack, and Melvin Rose try to make harmony together.

Frances Grover and Linda Pollock intently keep an eye on the basketball game as our photographer brilliantly snaps a candid shot.

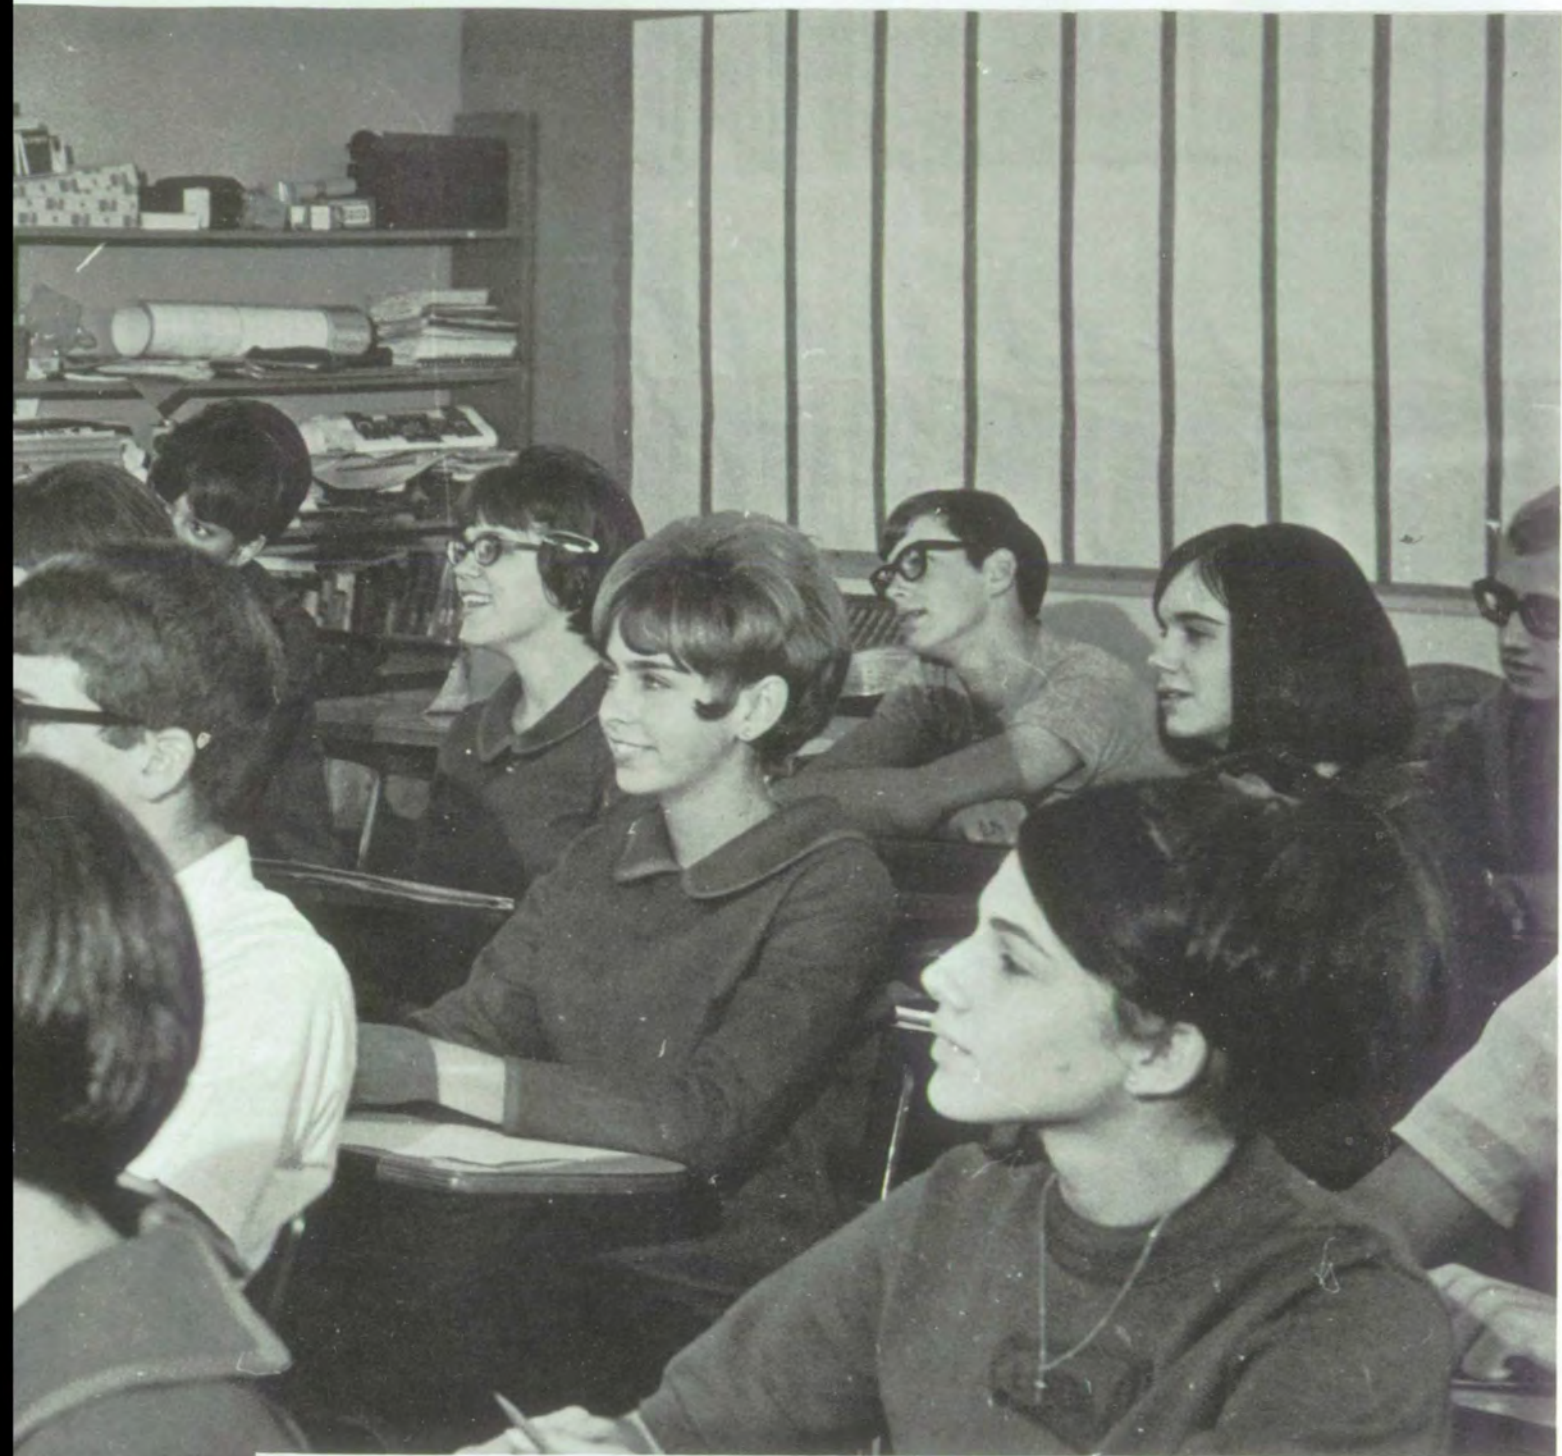

"Why do they call me uncoordinated," says Joleen Lemons as she plods down the hall.

Jim Landers inspects JuDee Butler's hippy beads as the freshman class "works" on their homecoming float.

Academics

The purpose of any school is to provide its students with the finest environment to learn. From the field work of vo-ag to the intricate problems of trig, we are confident that Lebanon High possesses students, faculty, and curriculum to compare favorably with the best of high schools. A pride in that achievement is history; its future lies on a stimulus to reach higher goals.

Administration

Lawrence Page, Principal

Chris May, Assistant Principal and Director of Guidance.

To The Students of Lebanon Union High School

This has been a great year for our school and we can all share the pride in being recognized as "one of the leading schools" in Secondary Education in Oregon. The entire student body has played an important role in this success and without your loyalty and cooperation, we would not be accorded the many honors we have received this year. Let us look back on the 1967-'68 school year for a moment and count our blessings. The scholastic achievements continue to rate high and our Seniors have already received more financial grants for further education than we could normally expect to garner. Our athletic teams gave us a Co-Championship in District football, a State Championship in wrestling, a top contender in baseball and highly respected teams in all other sports. Our music and dramatic programs have been received with fine acclaim and I could add many other areas of success to these already mentioned.

Class of 1968--you can be proud of what you have done for your school--you have established standards that I hope will be accepted as a challenge to the classes following you. To the classes yet to pass through these hallowed halls of learning, I have the confidence and faith in you to believe that you will continue to uphold the fine ideals set by your predecessors. Your Principal wishes to express to each member of the student body a heartfelt thank you for your cooperation and loyalty.

In the words of Grantland Rice, noted New York newspaper columnist, may I close with his words--"For when the One Great Scorer comes to write against your name, He writes - Not that you won or lost - but how you played the game."

Your Principal,

Mathematics is a very important part of a high school education. A total of 800 students participated in the various math classes at Lebanon High this year. The math department, headed by Mr. Darrell Carlson, offers a class for every need. It begins at basic and general math in the freshman level, continues with two levels of algebra, geometry, and trigonometry, and moves up through math analysis II. An individual's abilities to reason and think are heightened through participation in the actual process of problem solving and geometric computation in the math classes.

A unit consisting of computer programming is studied in depth in the advanced math analysis class. Here the students are exposed to the intricate mechanics of computers which are becoming an important part of American life. The study of mathematics is essential to the fast-paced world of today, and Lebanon High provides the necessary facilities to further math education.

Mr. Carlson, head of the math department, finds it hard to explain why he happens to have the English department's cart in his trig class.

Neva Holder, math club president, and Donald "Computer" Orr, are shown up by "The Silent One", David Eby, as he points at the "lost angle."

Science Department

Mr. Brown literally goes over his class's head, as he explains the workings of a slide-rule.

Every aspect of the universe is based on scientific reasons and knowledge. The purpose of the science department at Lebanon High School is to provide students with an opportunity to learn about the phenomena of nature as explained through a scientific medium. Students receive a basic understanding of the sciences through accumulation and practical application of knowledge. Laboratories, stocked with modern equipment and supplies, introduce students to laboratory procedures and modern technology. Courses are offered in general science, physical science, biology, physics, and chemistry. It is hoped that these courses will prepare promising students for an enriching career in science and also give others an understanding of the puzzle called science.

Many aspects of language arts are studied at Lebanon High. Besides the regular program of English where Robert's Syntax has recently been introduced, four foreign languages consisting of Spanish, French, German, and Latin are offered. Developmental reading is offered as a semester class where increased comprehension and speed are stressed. Journalism, which is offered on two levels, is an important part of language arts. The main objective of Journalism II is the publication of the school newspaper, the Hi-Light. Library Science gives students a chance to learn how to use the Library's sources to their fullest extent. Humanities Seminar is offered to seniors interested in studying philosophy, art, music, drama, and religion. Thus the Language Arts Department strives to cover an extensive program for many individual needs.

Social Science Department

The social science department, headed by Mr. Albert Neuman, helps every student to understand the world that evolves around him. The choice of classes range from modern problems, economic, government, sociology; world geography, including physical features and climate related to people; psychology, the study of human behavior; to even a course in international law and communism. The social science department tries to help the students to understand history and its effect on them each day. As in the words of Sir Norman Angelli: "The power of words is such that they have prevented our learning some of the most important events in the world's history."

Lebanon's vocational education program is one of the very best in the state of Oregon. It consists of home economics courses, drivers' education, shop classes, and agriculture. The program takes pride in itself in the fact that it covers such a wide area of subjects.

Home economics, taught on many different levels, covers sewing, cooking, flower arranging, table setting, serving, baby sitting, child care, personal grooming, and how to run a household. Such classes are helpful to many girls in broadening their knowledge in this area.

Driver education is a very valuable course for young, beginning drivers. Mr. Dixon and Mr. Fritz teach many students the fundamentals of driving through class study and actual driving.

Lebanon has very fine auto, metal, and wood shop facilities. Many specialized metal working machines, such as lathes, milling machines, and welders, are available for our boys to learn how to operate. The auto shop is equipped with car motors and students' cars for the classes to work with. In wood shop beginning students build foot stools and other woodworking articles. Advanced classes work with lathes and drill presses to produce fine workmanship. Lebanon students have an opportunity unequal to almost all other high school students to get basic and somewhat advanced training in this vocational area.

A fairly new program introduced at Lebanon is that of agriculture. Just this year a new building was added on to the shop area for these classes. Also, this department has an experiment land laboratory where students can put their knowledge to work. Specific classes offered are as follows: agriculture principles, agriculture production, agriculture mechanics, horticulture, farm operation and management, and forestry. Lebanon has a vocational program that all can be proud of.

Mrs. Davis gives her home economic class I, a few rudimentary lessons in cooking.

Lebanon High School can boast one of the finest business departments in the state. Students can receive very competent training in this area by taking such courses as typing, shorthand, accounting, stenographic procedures, and many others. Classes learn to use the key punch which makes IBM cards for computers. Also, machine shorthand has recently been introduced. Here a small, silent machine can record any words in the English language by the use of just a few keys. Adding machines of all sorts are employed to learn the procedure of making payrolls and other company business. One direct advantage derived from this type of study is after school jobs for many Lebanon students. Also, with such secretarial training, jobs are easier to obtain after the completion of high school.

Fine Arts Department

A full four year study in music and art is offered at L.H.S. Under the music program is choir, chorus, girls' glee, swing choir, freshmen band, concert band, orchestra, and stage band. The music department presented Thanksgiving and Spring concerts, where the different groups performed, along with many individuals. These are presented for the enjoyment of the community, and a large turnout always attend. In the spring the band and choir toured the surrounding junior highs and presented a program of the high school. This has aided the musical curriculum to expand to the extensive program it is today.

Art is offered to all those students interested in developing their artistic abilities. They learn and apply the principles of good design and color theory, and learn to appreciate the background of art. They study sculpturing, ceramics, drawing, water colors, and oil painting. Thus the fine arts department strives to broaden students' abilities in the art and music field.

John Swindley

"No, not now, Linda," says band director Mr. Knight to Linda Myran, "wait until I finish counting."

Veronica Neuman puts the finishing touches on another one of her numerous landscape paintings.

Physical Education Department

The world of physical education and health is designed to give boys and girls a solid foundation from which they can build physically and mentally-sound bodies. The boys' physical education classes participate in every kind of sport from gymnastics, through the fundamentals of wrestling, to the accuracy of pitching a baseball. The girls are engaged in activities such as swimming, track, basketball, and badminton. While all these boys and girls are taking physical education, all juniors are learning the basic ideas about contagious diseases to the bones of the body.

As said by Harvey A. Blodgett, "Good health is the secret of physical and mental power. Occasionally we hear of a genius who achieved great work despite the handicaps of ill health and suffering; but the strong, vigorous, clear-eyed person has the best chance in life's battles." Lebanon High School tries to fulfill these goals to help make the world physically and mentally a better place for all.

A program of nurses' training is provided for girls interested in pursuing the field of nursing. They receive on-the-job training under the supervision of the school nurse, and they assist the nurse with many of her tasks. The fundamental principles learned through the nurse's office help the girls determine if they want to go into nursing in further years.

A special class is provided for many students requiring individual aid. They are instructed according to their personal abilities, and thus learn more rapidly than they would in other classes. They also are exposed to job training, where through participation in the work, they gain much practical knowledge which can be used later in their lives.

Marilyn Kelley helps the school nurse, Mrs. Snelling, with some of the paper work always present in her office.
